Vinson Says U. S. Must Build Forces For Global War

House Vote Is Expected On Extension of Enlistments for One Year

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) said today "a global war is a real, distinct possibility at any time" and American forces must be built up for that possibility.

Vinson, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, made the statement in a speech prepared for House delivery in support of a bill that would add a year to the service period of enlisted men now in the armed forces.

A House vote was expected later in the day.

The enlistment "freeze" already has passed the Senate.

The House also expected to take a vote later on legislation to lift all limits from the size of the armed forces.

On a speed up schedule it may vote next week on giving the armed forces the $10,486,976,000 in additional money asked for them by President Truman.

Vinson said the United States is "seriously short" at present in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Oneonta Is Linked To 'Bookie' Ring

Million-Dollar Combine Is Uncovered; Would Hold Three Men

New York, July 25 (AP)—Brooklyn racket investigators claim that four raids in Brooklyn and in upstate Oneonta have uncovered a $1,000,000 a year bookmaking ring.

The ring apparently had taken over much of the business left behind by the jailed king-pin bookmaker Frank Erickson, the prosecutors say.

The report was made last night as Assistant District Attorneys Gerald Clarke and Julius Helfand appeared before County Judge Samuel Leibowitz to have three men held as material witnesses.

A fourth man had been held at Oneonta on Saturday, the authorities announced.

Judge Leibowitz held three Brooklyn men in bail as witnesses—Murray Kalik, 45, in $10,000, and Joseph Katz, 42, and Raphael Goldstein, 47, in $5,000 each. Kalik was named as a "betting commissioner" and the other two as his assistants.

Clarke reported to the court that Andrew Kammemer, 51, had been arrested at Oneonta Saturday and held in $5,000 bail there yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice A. Lindsay O'Connor.

Clarke said the alleged bookie ring transacted business in several New York cities and in New Jersey.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald's men said the raids netted "thousands of records," the names of Wall street customers, notations of "ice" (graft) payments, and a large amount of gambling equipment.

Some of the "ice" notations were found half-burned, the investigators said as they reported on the district attorneys' ever-widening probe of gambling and other rackets in Brooklyn.

The investigators said the three Brooklyn men were arrested in raids at their homes made yesterday on the basis of information obtained when Clarke and state troopers went to Kammemer's home in Oneonta Saturday.

Will Fire Second Rocket; First Is Exploded at Sea

Long Range Proving Ground, Cocoa, Fla., July 25 (AP)—Another giant two-stage rocket will be fired here Saturday in a second horizontal test flight of guided missiles.

The first such successful flight was made yesterday when a 14-ton German V-2 rocket with a 700-pound missile on its nose made a climbing turn miles off over the Atlantic.

The V-2 reached 10 miles into the air, then curved downward and was exploded by remote control. Its debris fell into the sea 48 miles from the launching platform. It reached a speed of 2,700 miles an hour.

The smaller missile known as a Wac Corporal, sped on, attaining a speed of perhaps 5,000 miles an hour. Its performance is a military secret.

Col. Harold R. Turner, safety officer and former commandant of the proving grounds at White Sands, N. M., said the intended range of the Wac Corporal was in excess of 175 miles.

The two rockets measured 60 feet high and rose in a burst of flame and the sound of a sharp thunderclap. Power was on the V-2 only a minute and it burned up 10 tons of liquid oxygen and alcohol in that time.

Gyroscopic controls took charge as it thundered upward and bent its path toward the open sea. It was at 51,000 feet after only a minute and 20 seconds of flight.

Then the Wac Corporal separated from the mother rocket and sped on at a rate described as "the sum of the two rockets." No estimate of the speed was made officially, but private estimates ran as high as 5,000 miles an hour.

Man Confesses He Robbed in 9 Towns

Union City, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Police said George Zagorski, 25, arrested with six loaded guns in his possession, last night admitted robbing finance companies in nine communities.

Zagorski, who was paroled from state prison two years ago after serving part of a term for a Jersey City robbery, was arrested Sunday after a hit-and-run accident.

He was charged with auto theft, leaving the scene of an accident, and carrying concealed weapons. Police said he had six loaded guns and 250 rounds of ammunition.

Detective Lt. John Mescall said last night that Zagorski had admitted the theft of $12,780 in cash, $15,000 in government bonds and $1,600 in jewelry between March 3 and July 18. Mescall quoted Zagorski as saying the thefts were from loan firms in Roselle Park, Newark, Fort Lee, Cranford, Little Falls, Caldwell, Freehold, Nyack, N. Y., and Staten Island, N. Y.

Mescall added that Bernard Smokowski, 22, of Jersey City, who was charged with the auto theft and leaving the scene of accident at the same time as Zagorski, had not been implicated in the robberies.

Soviet Aides Work With Red Korea

Prisoners Say Russia in May Gave Much Equipment to Army; Tanks Included

20,000 Vets in Line

North Koreans Part of Sino Red Legions, Two Declare

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea, July 25 (AP)—North Korean prisoners said today that 20,000 Korean veterans of the Chinese Red Army were recalled in March for the invasion of South Korea. They added today in interviews.

Russian advisers are working with North Korean army units.

Russia in May—at least a full month before the invasion—supplied the North Korean army with huge quantities of military equipment. This included an unknown number of tanks.

A companion strike at Fomosa by the Chinese Communists apparently was planned but did not come off.

(The United States threw a screen of warships between Fomosa and Red China a few days after the invasion of South Korea. And President Truman promised the Chinese Nationalists, on Fomosa, protection if they were attacked by the Reds.)

Kim Kwang Whan, 24, and Suk Yung Chan, 22 said the 20,000 Korean veterans in March crossed the Yalu river separating Manchuria from North Korea.

As the 141st Division of the Chinese Red 47th Army, the Koreans had fought several years in Manchuria, the two said they added.

"The Koreans brought along 'all kinds of arms and ammunition.' The veterans were spread through North Korean army divisions.

Kim and Suk were among 239 prisoners in a stockade here. Some talked freely with correspondents at a news conference.

Kim and Suk said they crossed into Korea by train at Sinuiju, near the mouth of the Yalu river, between March 7 and 15. They said they were born in Manchuria, and their families still live there.

Ko Duk Rin, a second lieutenant, said the Chinese Communists told the Korean veterans that South Korea, Fomosa and Hainan all would fall at the same time.

Hannan fell in late April. The U. S. Seventh Fleet still is protecting Fomosa.

Lieutenant Speaks

Kim Yung Bok, 35, a second lieutenant who served in the North Korean army four years, said North Korea received much military equipment from Russia last May. There were unknown numbers of Russian built tanks at the Pyongyang arsenal, he added.

One hundred fifty of the prisoners came from two provinces south of Vladivostok.

Maj. Paik Won Kyo, South Korean commandant of the prison stockade, said there were 30 Korean veterans from the Chinese Red army among the prisoners.

Ko, a platoon leader, said the North Koreans had to fight two days with only one meal. He said he surrendered July 18 near Sangju "of my own desire" because there were no more North Korean arms and supplies in that area.

Ko said the North Korean 15th division had been short of food from the time it captured Hong-chung, northeast of Seoul. It tried to live off the country.

Yanks Abandon Yongdong; Strong U.S. Controls Asked

Allied Planes Step Up Their Korea Action

Tokyo, July 25 (AP)—American and Australian planes Monday destroyed or damaged 21 Red tanks, 15 bridges and an armored car and laked enemy supply lines in stepped up action.

Ten tanks, dispatches from Korea said, were destroyed. A Far East Air Forces spokesman in Korea said 11 more were damaged.

The 64 air missions in 191 sorties were in close coordination with operations of the U. S. Cavalry Division on the Taejon-Yongdong highway front. The planes ranged also to Kwangju, deep in southwest Korea, where Red forces ranged unchecked by token forces of South Korean police.

At the same time it was announced the Fifth Air Force would step up its night operations against the Communists, who have been moving men and tanks in long columns under the cover of darkness.

"We've got to pin them down at night as we have them pinned in the day," said Major Gen. Earl D. Partridge, at Fifth Air Force headquarters in Korea.

Steady Ground Pressure

He said the Reds were able to maintain steady ground pressure because of night operations.

Last night two Mustangs caught a truck column west of Yongdong in bright moonlight and strafed it.

Partridge said the invaders have been moving motorized columns 25 miles long at night with lights on.

The North Korean planes struck back in a retaliatory raid on American and South Korean positions, filed dispatches said today.

B-29 Superforts ripped holes in a network of 12 to 15 strategic railroad bridges used to move Communist troops and supplies to battlefronts.

Attack Along Coast

Attack bombers and rocket-blasting fighters attacked along Korea's western coast line as far north as Seoul, then swung eastward to smash marshaling yards at Chechon, 70 miles inland from the east coast.

Sawyer Testifies On Domestic Aid

Atlantic Allies Rush Defense Plan For Western Zones

Representatives Meet Secretly in London; Delegates Form Civil High Command

London, July 25 (AP)—The United States and her Atlantic States and her Atlantic Pact allies rushed plans today for defense against a possible Communist attack on the west.

Prodded by the Red Blitz in Korea, representatives of the 12-pact countries met in secret session here to cut a four-year rearmament schedule to two years.

The delegates form the permanent civilian high command of the pact organization. Their council was created in May by the foreign ministers of the 12 countries. The ministers called for "tangible results" by fall.

The session opening today is expected to last four or five days but the council is subject to recall at any time. U. S. Delegate Charles M. Spofford was named council chairman. The membership also includes representatives of Britain, France, Italy, Portugal, Iceland, Denmark, Norway, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Canada.

British Cabinet To Meet

Britain's cabinet meanwhile met today to polish plans for expanded defense and to decide what further aid should be sent to the Korean fighting. The Labor government made a final check in preparation for tomorrow's full-dress debate in the House of Commons on the readiness of British defenses to meet any aggression.

Informal sources said army, navy and air ministers have been working also on plans for increased aid to the hard-pressed defenders of South Korea. British ships and planes are already in the fight. The government reportedly feels it must also send at least a token force of land troops for the psychological effect, both on the men fighting in Korea and on U. S. public opinion.

Major Question

A major question before the Atlantic Pact Council is whether military security involving a big-scale arms program, can be bought without cutting in to Europe's economic recovery.

The original 1945 target date was built on the theory that western Europe could rearm by then without cutting into its rising standard of living.

European members of the pact, bruised and battered by World War 2, are afraid if they have to start full-scale production of guns, tanks and planes they will fall behind in civilian production.

The American answer to this fear qualified informants say is that Europe can expand military production without cutting into its peacetime needs by working longer hours, developing new plants and absorbing the unemployed.

Urges President Be Given Power; Tax Rise Is Held Sure

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said today the economic control powers the administration is asking may not be enough. He declared greater powers will be needed if military spending is increased further.

Sawyer was before the Senate Banking Committee to urge that Congress quickly give President Truman the controls he has asked. These include powers to parcel out scarce materials to industries, to say how these materials shall be used, to stop production of any item, and to fix the terms of credit and sale.

Some members of Congress already are balking at such a grant of power. At the same time there has been growing sentiment for a sharp increase in taxes with the idea that this would (1) put defense costs on a pay as you go basis, and (2) hold down inflationary pressures, lessening the need for controls.

Rise Seems Certain

A rise in taxes appears certain since the administration—as well as some critics of its controls program—is urging higher taxes.

There also is some sentiment for an even bigger military expansion than the $9,000,000,000-plus asked by President Truman.

In a House speech today, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) called for an all-out defense effort. He said Russia outnumbered the United States 7 to 1 in tanks, 17 to 1 in military manpower, has a "vast air force" and some 300 submarines.

Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said he was not satisfied with present plans for increasing the size of the navy air force "for I believe there is too much conservatism in the program."

Will Not Suffice

On the question of possible need for control powers, Sawyer told the Senate Committee.

"Even though the powers proposed in this (administration program) bill are strong, it is my opinion they will not suffice if there is a great expansion of military expenditures beyond the programs contemplated at the present time."

He added, however, that "prompt and vigorous action under this bill will do much to prevent the necessity for additional powers."

Sawyer also criticized recent price rises as "unjustified."

Declaring that "hoarding by consumers or the accumulation of excessive inventories by business at this time is not only unsound, but unpatriotic," the commerce chief said.

"We would do what we can to allay the fear which causes panic buying and we should at the same time be prepared to discipline those who are trying to take advantage of that fear."

Sawyer said he is "convinced the American people will willingly give up whatever is necessary to guarantee our national security, in spite of inconvenience and some sacrifice of the very high levels of consumption which they now enjoy."

Eisler Is Kept Off German Red Unit

Berlin, July 25 (AP)—Gerhart Eisler, Communist leader who jumped bail in the United States to get to east Germany, has been kept off the new central committee of the East German Communist party in a shakeup of the party organization.

This was brought to light today in a party announcement that it has elected its real boss, Moscow-trained Walter Ulbricht, as its first secretary general, and has revamped its organizational structure so that it will become a copy of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

Red Drive Continues; Price Heavy

Communists Cut Off Broad Area Near Tip of Peninsula; Pusan in Path

Flanks Are Hit

Reds Push Hard Upon Yank Wings; Use Camouflage

Tokyo, Wednesday, July 26 (AP)—American ground forces abandoned Yongdong Tuesday, withdrawing under frenzied Communist attacks on that center position of the narrowing American defense perimeter in southeast Korea.

Elements of the First Cavalry Division, which had stood up throughout the day against wave after wave of enemy assaults along the Taejon-Yongdong highway, finally quit Yongdong for new, undisclosed positions.

General MacArthur's early-morning operational release today conceded that the North Korean invaders were continuing their pressure despite heavy losses and severe communications.

This release said "further withdrawals may be necessary," but did not include the withdrawal from Yongdong late Tuesday, which field dispatches already had reported.

The rampaging Communists shelled off all the western and southwestern side of the peninsula. They seized the southern tip of Korea and turned eastward toward Pusan, U. S. supply port on the southeastern tip of the peninsula.

Yongdong was abandoned after a fierce daylong fight. Most of the U. S. troops got out safely. But troops on the flanks were trapped and battered by Communist roadblocks, snipers and guerrillas.

Stole Through Hills

The Reds stole through the hills surrounding Yongdong wearing grass and leaves to blend in with the countryside. Their camouflage made them difficult targets for American arms.

Yongdong is 20 miles southeast of abandoned Taejon, on the important American rail supply line leading from the southeastern port of Pusan.

Air observers saw many North Korean soldiers moving north and south of the city in a pincer movement aimed at trapping the U. S. soldiers in their first major engagement with the Communists.

There were indications snipers and guerrillas had got behind the Americans.

The battle started with heavy frontal attacks on American positions across the main Taejon-Pusan highway at a point west of Yongdong. Fanatical Communists in waves fell upon the cavalymen.

Meager first reports indicated, Yongdong itself was not fought over—contrary to earlier reports. The Americans pulled back through the town to their new positions.

Most of the townpeople had been evacuated in line with an order for all civilians to get out of the battle zone.

Pincers In Worked

The Communists worked two jaws of a pincers movement while maintaining the heavy pressure of their frontal attack. Red soldiers wearing grass and leaves blended with the countryside to make themselves poor targets.

The 25th U. S. Division, in positions somewhere north of the First Cavalry Division, beat off two Communist attacks with artillery fire and infantry support. Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert reported.

The 25th Division abandoned advanced positions during Monday night. Then it caught the Reds in a flanking fire when they made an assault early this morning under withering American fire.

New North Korean Red attacks were anticipated in the northeast sector of the winding, 150-mile mountainous front.

In other sectors American and South Korean forces were reported holding the line, except in the far southwest, where the Communists ranged unchecked.

Concern Is Felt

Ellenville Man Is Ulster's 19th Auto Accident Victim

Laundry Truck Skids, Overturns Near Village; Coroner Gives Verdict

Sheldon Rosenberg, 29, Ellenville laundry truck driver, died Monday afternoon after his truck skidded and overturned near Ellenville.

Rosenberg is Ulster county's 19th fatality on local roads in 1950.

Troopers from the Wurtsboro substation said the truck failed to make a right curve on Briggs Highway, county road 78, about five miles west of Ellenville village, around 2:30 p. m. Monday.

The truck, a 1937 panel truck owned by the Ellenville Steam Laundry, overturned on the south shoulder of the road, troopers said. The road was reported wet from a rainstorm at the time.

Rosenberg was pronounced dead by Dr. Harry Kutz 15 minutes after he was admitted to Veterans Memorial Hospital. Coroner Arthur C. Chip of Kerhonkson gave a verdict of accidental death due to shock and internal injuries. Rosenberg was alone in the truck at the time of the accident, troopers said.

State police reported that Rosenberg was thrown from the truck when it overturned. He was taken to the hospital by the Pulling Ambulance Service.

Rosenberg was the son of Mrs. Helene Rosenberg of Oak Ridge road, Ellenville. The body was turned over to the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, where funeral arrangements will be made.

Counter-Revolution Reported in China

London, July 25 (AP)—Moscow radio disclosed today a seemingly widespread counter-revolutionary trend in Communist China.

The radio reported that a dramatic campaign against any who help traitors and saboteurs—has been ordered by the Chinese Red government.

The broadcast quoted a dispatch by Tass, the Soviet News Agency from Peking, the Red capital. It said a "directive for the suppression of counter-revolutionary activity" was issued by Premier Chou En-lai.

All bandits cliques operating with arms against public order must be decisively put down and eradicated. Tass quoted the directive. "Their chiefs and persons guilty of serious crimes are to be punished by death in accordance with the law."

Veterans Screened for Posts As Officers of State Guard

Albany, N. Y. July 25 (AP)—Screening of veterans for appointment as officers in the New York State Guard got underway today as New York National Guard units awaited call to federal service.

Governor Dewey ordered the State Guard activated yesterday on a basis of replacing N.Y.N.G. units called to active duty by Washington.

Dewey designated Maj. Gen. Karl A. Hausauer of Buffalo, N.Y.N.G. commander, as chief of the State Guard. Hausauer also is Dewey's chief of staff.

The governor directed Hausauer to make an immediate canvass of experienced military personnel from which an officer cadre would be selected for the State Guard. Enlisted personnel, however, will not be recruited at this time for the State Guard.

Dewey said it was more important now for such men to join the regular armed forces—or the N.Y.N.G., which he said was about 3,000 men under its authorized maximum strength of 30,000.

Dewey said that 10 non-divisional N.Y.N.G. units alerted for calls to federal duty, on or after Aug. 14, "do not require replacement (by State Guard units) at this time."

He estimated the alerted units were of a type whose functions in the state presumably would be taken over by U. S. Air Force or (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Federal Reserve Fears Spirals and Gray Markets

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Unless strong controls are applied quickly to installment buying and home mortgages, the Federal Reserve Board said today, "the country will face serious problems of gray markets and spiraling prices."

The board told Congress that the Korean crisis started a nationwide "buying spree" at a time when the country already was in a potentially inflationary situation.

The reserve panel's views on economic phases of President Truman's mobilization program were outlined in a statement to the Senate and House Banking Committees. The so-called gray markets to which it referred are not illegal. They involve willingness of consumers to bid and pay higher prices in order to obtain goods.

The board gave full support to President Truman's request for broad emergency controls over consumer credit and mortgages. Its statement said:

"Sales of automobiles and house have risen to record levels and consumer prices are now higher than at any other time, except for a short period in the latter part of 1946."

"Authority for restrictions on consumer and real estate credit should be provided for use to the extent necessary as an essential part of the program for conserving resources for defense and protecting the economy against inflation."

The need to strengthen our economic defenses is no less than the need to strengthen our military defenses. A prompt action is imperative."

R. M. Evans, a board member, read the statement to the House committee.

He said no conclusions have been reached as to down payments and length of time to pay for consumer goods. He said he regards taxation as the best way to pay for a larger military establishment.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my thanks to Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., the nurses and hospital staff for the excellent care during and after my operation at the Kingston City Hospital. Also the donors of beautiful flowers, and cards, and those who offered prayer at the hospital and elsewhere in my behalf.

Labor Unity Is Basis for Talks

Washington, July 25 (AP)—For the first time in more than three years, A.F.L. and C.I.O. leaders begin today, a series of meetings to discuss the unification of labor.

No merger of the big rival organizations is expected in the immediate future. But since their last unity talks in May 1947 they have steadily increased their cooperation in the international field, and to some extent in domestic matters.

Today's session was expected to be preliminary and exploratory. Other meetings were expected later.

Penney Company Executive Dies

Earl Corder Sams, 63, chairman of the board of the J. C. Penney Company since 1946, died Sunday at New Rochelle Hospital. His home was at 480 Beechmont Drive, New Rochelle.

Sams joined J. C. Penney in the operation of the first in the chain of department stores at Kennerly, Wyo., in 1907, and shortly thereafter became manager of the second Penney store at Cumberland, Wyo. He was president of the company from 1917 to 1946, and succeeded J. C. Penney as chairman of the board in 1946.

He was a member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America; chairman of the William Sloane House of the Y.M.C.A. in New York; on the board of the National Mission of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.; a member of the national council of the Y.M.C.A.; a trustee of Kansas Wesleyan University, and president of the Earl C. Sams Foundation, Inc.

More Than 5,000 Planes to Be Added

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson said today "more than 5,000" war planes will be added to the nation's air strength.

Johnson conferred with President Truman and Secretary of the Navy Matthews at the White House and later told reporters who asked about the outlook for the Korean fighting:

"Our boys have done a marvelous job over there. We have a different story a month from now."

Johnson said the 5,000-plane expansion will be made under the $10,486,976,000 military fund President Truman asked from Congress yesterday.

Cabinet Will Meet Twice Each Week

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Because of the Korean crisis and troubled world conditions, President Truman has put cabinet meetings on a twice-a-week basis. Cabinet meetings have been held once a week on Friday morning. Now there will be Tuesday afternoon and Friday morning sessions.

(Today's session is set for 3 p. m., E.S.T.)

Sitting in regularly on cabinet meetings now are W. Stuart Symington, who handles general mobilization planning as chairman of the National Security Resources Board, and W. Averell Harriman, Mr. Truman's special assistant on foreign affairs.

Area Is Sealed Against Russians

Bad Oeynhausen, Germany, July 25 (AP)—An area of 200 square miles of the British zone was sealed at noon today to prevent Russians or their agents watching training exercises by British, Norwegian and Danish troops.

People entering the area will be challenged by military police jeep patrols. Only bearers of special military passes will be allowed to stay.

The training ground is the Lüneburg Heath, south of Hamburg and just west of the Russian zone border.

Five-Car Crash Injures Six

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—A five-car traffic accident on northern State Parkway sent six persons to a hospital today. One of the six was believed seriously injured.

Police said a New York-bound car apparently had a blowout and shot to the wrong side of the parkway near I. U. Willets road, north of Mineola. The car struck a second car, bounded back across the road and struck a third, and then the fourth and fifth cars crashed into the wreckage.

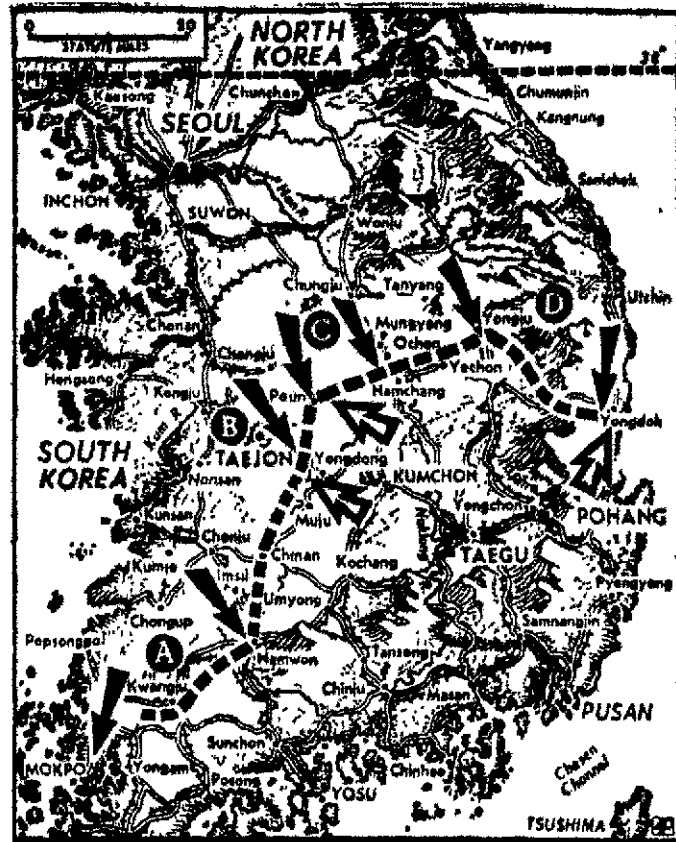

Those injured were taken to Meadowbrook Hospital. Their names were not immediately available.

Solid arrows locate Communist activity along 150-mile front (broken line) in South Korea, with open arrows indicating sectors where Americans and South Koreans have held off the assaults. In the southwest (A) the Reds have swept almost to tip of peninsula, meeting resistance only from South Korea police. Heaviest pressure was near Yongdong (B) where Americans turned back a tank-led assault. West of Hamchang (C) one of the Red columns moving down mountain roads reached Poun. To the east (D) South Koreans withdrew from Yongbu but along the coast at Yongdok a North Korean attack was repulsed.

Vinson Says U. S. Yanks Abandon

"standing military strength" and he questioned whether the expansion program the administration has begun will be enough. He said he is not satisfied with the plans for increasing the size of the navy and air force "for I believe there is too much conservatism in the program."

Outnumbers U. S. in Tanks

Vinson said Russia outnumbers the United States 7 to 1 in tanks, more than 17 to 1 in military manpower and has almost 30 submarines and "a vast air force."

On the U. S. side of the military ledger, he said, there are these assets:

"Governmentally, we are far stronger than our potential enemies . . . in any long term effort our system can outlast and surpass the dictatorial, regimented system of the Communists. Our industrial potential . . . is the envy of the world."

"Our seapower is vastly greater than that of Russia and her satellites. Our strategic air power is unmatched anywhere in the world. We are still far ahead in the atomic arms effort and will probably stay ahead for some years in the future."

Truman Request

Mr. Truman's new cash request was forecast in his urgent message to the Korean crisis last Wednesday. Details he submitted last yesterday asked $10,486,976,000 in new money for the armed services, $20,000,000 to operate the draft and $10,000,000 for his emergency fund.

The additional money would boost planned military spending for the fiscal year which ends next June 30 to approximately $23,000,000,000.

The White House estimated the new money would be enough to add 600,000 men to the armed forces total in the fiscal year. Since this total now is 1,450,000, with enough funds in sight to make it 1,800,000—the additional 600,000 would swell the total above 2,000,000.

Mr. Truman said he asked for the money (1) "to meet the immediate situation in Korea" and (2) to help America get ready to "deter further acts of aggression."

Of the total $4,535,000,000—the largest share would go to the air force. The army would get $3,063,000,000 and the navy $2,648,000,000. An item of $240,000,000 was listed for establishment-wide activities of the Defense Department.

Two Russians Held By Police in Manila

Manila, July 25 (AP)—Special agents of the Manila Police Department last night arrested two Russians, identified as "suspected Communists," on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

Police Capt. E. A. Vilar said arresting officers found arms, ammunition and radio transmitting equipment in the apartment of the two suspects. They lived in a fashionable district in Manila.

Vilar said the two men apparently were uncle and nephew, 40 and 20 years old respectively. They both gave the same name—Igor Mosloff, Vilar said.

He Saw Movie

Caruthersville, Mo., July 25 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy who admitted wrecking a Frisco passenger train told officers yesterday he got the idea from watching a movie about the notorious Dalton gang. Sheriff E. F. Claxton said William L. Godsey, son of a sharecropper, confessed breaking a switch lock and a signal light near Holland, Mo. A Memphis-to-St. Louis train hit the switch at 50 miles an hour and jumped the rails Sunday, killing the engineer and injuring 13 persons.

Fingerprints Are Suggested

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Chicago's director of civilian defense wants everybody in the city—some 3,600,000—fingerprinted. A complete list of fingerprints, he said, would help in identification of casualties in case of bomb disaster. Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney said he will make the recommendation to the state advisory board.

Burglars Also Take Sink

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Burglars broke into a South Side home and stole a variety of articles, including the kitchen sink. Harry Schroeder, a streetcar motorman, told police they also carted away a wash basin, mattress, telephone coin box, garbage burner and grates from the ventilators.

Local Death Record

Arthur Moore of Rosendale died in Kingston after a lingering illness. He leaves a sister, Ollie Moore and a brother, Henry Moore, of Rosendale. Funeral services will be held at the George J. Moyle Funeral Home, Main street, Rosendale, Wednesday, July 26, at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the Rosendale Plains cemetery.

The funeral of Wayne Peters, 5, of Flushing, L. I., was held Monday morning from the Hartley Lamourne Funeral Home in Sagerties. Burial was in the Blue Mountain Cemetery. The Rev. C. W. Christman of the Sagerties Methodist Church officiated. The boy was fatally injured when struck by an automobile at West Sagerties Friday afternoon.

John Dwyer of the Hurley Reformed Church officiated. Funeral will be held from William Schlemm, Inc., 3200 Hudson Boulevard, Union City, N. J., Monday morning, July 24, at 11 o'clock. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Union City, N. J.

Funeral services for Pamela Douglas, infant daughter of Kenneth and Elizabeth Glass Douglas, of 28 Foxhall avenue, were held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home Monday morning, July 24, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Fred H. Deming officiated. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Deming gave the committal. Besides the parents, deceased was survived by two brothers, William Charles Douglas and Kenneth John Douglas.

Marcius S. Hutton of 470 West 24th street, New York, died Saturday at New Hope, Pennsylvania, where he had been visiting his nephew. For a number of years he was a trustee, secretary and treasurer of Union Chapel, Twilight Park, Haines Falls, where he resided during the summer. He also was an elder in the Marble Coast Church, 6th avenue and 25th street, New York city, where services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be private.

C. John Coniglio of Port Ewen, an artillery officer of World War 2, and a young man who took a vital interest in the affairs of his community, died early this morning at the Benedictine Hospital. Although he had been ill for some time his death was a shock to his family and friends. Surviving are his wife, Mary Duffy Coniglio; his parents, Benjamin and Josephine Coniglio, 340 Port Ewen; six sisters, Mrs. Ignatius Prusack, Kingston; Mrs. Robert J. Henry, Mrs. Charles Perry, the Misses Mary, June and Veronica Coniglio of Port Ewen. Funeral will be held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Coniglio, Broadway, Port Ewen, Friday morning at 9:15 o'clock thence to the Church of the Presentation where a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered at 10 o'clock for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. He was a graduate of the Port Ewen School and Kingston High School, class of 1941. Prior to World War 2, he was employed by Hercules Powder Company. In the army overseas he served as a staff sergeant in the field artillery in Germany and Czechoslovakia. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Presentation, captain of Port Ewen Fire and Drum Corps, Port Ewen Fire Company and town of Esopus Post, American Legion. He was active in sports and belonged to the Catholic Youth Organization.

Highland, July 25—Funeral services for Mrs. Alice E. Nardone, wife of Joseph Nardone were held Monday afternoon at the Carpenter Funeral Home, 1000 E. 4th street, conducted by the Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. Mrs. Nardone's death occurred Friday at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where she had been a patient for the past eight weeks. She was 43 years of age and was born in Gardner, the daughter of Lewis A. and Katherine Jones of Gardner. Her home had been here for the past 10 years. Surviving are one son, Clayton Bailey, Bridgeport, Conn.; her parents; four sisters, Mrs. Curtis Eldred, Mrs. Melvin Carr, Mrs. Elmore Smith, Mrs. Lester Wager; six brothers, William Denton, John Denton, Lewis Denton, Anthony Denton, Harry Denton, James Denton.

After eight weeks in the New England Doctor's Hospital, Boston, death came to Jerome J. Mastropolo on Saturday. He was 50 years of age. He was manager of the Roland Davidson farm and cold storage on Vineyard avenue. Surviving is his wife the former Norma Davidson, four children, Norma, Gerard, Laurel, Tyrrell; two sisters, Mrs. Nunzio Portuense, Mrs. Raymond Raimondi; one brother, Charles Mastropolo all from Long Island. Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Augustine's Church. A requiem Mass with Father Kennedy officiating. Burial in Highland Cemetery.

Prices Are Increased

New York, July 25 (AP)—Price increases of three to 16 per cent on television sets have been put into effect by Emerson Radio and Phonograph Corp. in a move expected to be followed by other manufacturers. The increases amounting to $10 to $40 at retail, were over previously reduced summer "interim prices" which the company said were intended to stimulate business during the customary slack summer period.

Hyman Is Arrested

Thomas Hyman, 63, of Stone Ridge, who was recently fined $50 for violation of his license by City Judge Raymond J. Mine on a reckless driving charge, was arrested today on the charge that he was driving without a license. He is scheduled to appear in city court tomorrow morning.

Sailors Say Soviets Unloaded Supplies

London, July 25 (AP)—Sailors on a Greek freighter told today of watching Russians unload supplies in a North Korean port from U. S. built Liberty ships last March 23.

The freighter is the 7,000-ton George F. Andrews, the last European vessel known to have visited North Korea before its Communists invaded south of the 38th parallel June 25.

Christos Petrides, 25-year-old second mate of the Greek ship, told reporters:

"We arrived at Chinnampo, North Korea, on March 23. We were immediately boarded by soldiers carrying guns. The soldiers broke an 8-day winning streak which carried the group on average to the highest level in nearly two years."

Aircraft were little affected by President Truman's request, made late yesterday, for $10,516,976,000 to expand the armed forces, more than half of which would go to the air force.

Prices movements were surprisingly small in view of heavy trading. At one time business was so active that the ticker tape dropped behind.

Managing to make a little progress were Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Central, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Caterpillar Tractor, and air reduction.

Lower in the curb were American Metal Products, Barium Steel, Cities Service, Colonial Airlines, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share, Fairchild Engine, Fawcett Metallurgical, Kaiser-Frazer, Louisiana Land, Northrop Aircraft, Piper Aircraft, and Standard Power.

30 Women Halt Jobs on Dresses

Thirty women employees of Kings Dresses, 519 Broadway, walked off their jobs yesterday because of what they claim is failure to adjust a wage dispute.

Neither Jacob J. Schneider, local manager of International Ladies Garment Union, Local 259, nor Herbert Lustberg, plant manager, would make a statement today.

It was unofficially reported, however, that the women, who are employed as piece workers in the waistmaking department, are not on strike, but were remaining off their jobs pending settlement of the dispute.

One of the women said the waistmakers were experiencing what amounted to a salary cut. Other workers at the plant remained on their jobs.

The women said they walked off their jobs yesterday morning and they remained out today.

Training Bill May Be Offered

Washington, July 25 (AP)—A new bill for universal military training may be introduced in Congress this week.

It would provide for a year's training for men 17 and 18 years old.

An American Legion committee drafting the bill expected to complete its work late today.

The committee is working closely with Defense Department and Selective Service officials.

'Bigger Bite' Expected

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today said a bigger bite of wage earners' pay envelopes before the end of the year Snyder told a news conference he is "sure" President Truman will ask Congress this week to raise individual and corporate taxes. The money would go to pay costs of defense to meet Communist aggression in Korea and elsewhere. Congressional approval would mean bigger withholding taxes from employee paychecks.

Doyle Held for Grand Jury

Thomas E. Doyle, Jr., 26, of Pine Grove avenue, who was arrested earlier this month on a charge of impairing the morals of a minor, was held for the grand jury following hearing before City Judge Raymond J. Mine today. Attorney Charles J. Flanagan appeared for the defendant and James Abemathy represented the district attorney's office. Three witnesses were called.

Approval Is Given

Washington, July 25 (AP)—A Senate Judiciary Subcommittee gave speedy approval today to the nomination of Edward Weinfeld of New York city to be federal district judge in the southern district of New York.

Have Vanadium

Los Angeles (AP)—Sea squirts take some of the small amounts of vanadium in sea water and concentrate it in their own bodies. This is the conclusion of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography. Vanadium could be recovered from sea squirts but it would have to be very valuable to make the process profitable, the institution believes.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 25 (AP)—A rally slowly took shape in the stock market today after prices had declined a few cents to as much as $2 a share.

The decline was not only interrupted but a wide variety of issues crept up from their lows for the day. In a few cases—notably in the rail group—losses were replaced with gains.

The morning drop affected rail, steel and auto stocks in particular. The setback in the rail group broke an 8-day winning streak which carried the group on average to the highest level in nearly two years.

Aircraft were little affected by President Truman's request, made late yesterday, for $10,516,976,000 to expand the armed forces, more than half of which would go to the air force.

McCarthy Claims Proof High Officer Is Communistic

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared today he has air-tight proof that an important State Department official—a Moscow-born "Mr. X"—is a Communist.

The proof, McCarthy said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, is contained in the department's own loyalty file on the man.

He said his evidence was furnished by "an F.B.I. agent, and undercover agent, (who) joined the Communist party in 1937 at the suggestion of the F.B.I."

McCarthy described the case as one of the 81 covered by the State Department loyalty files which were examined by a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which investigated McCarthy's Communists in Government charges.

A report last week by the Democratic majority of that inquiry group labelled McCarthy's accusations "a fraud and a hoax." The three Democrats on the committee said there was no proof whatever in the 81 files to back up McCarthy's contentions that those the records deal with were—variously—Communists, fellow travelers, or security risks for other reasons.

The two Republicans on the committee refused to sign the report. Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) got out a minority document calling the inquiry superficial and inconclusive. Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he was in general accord with Lodge's views.

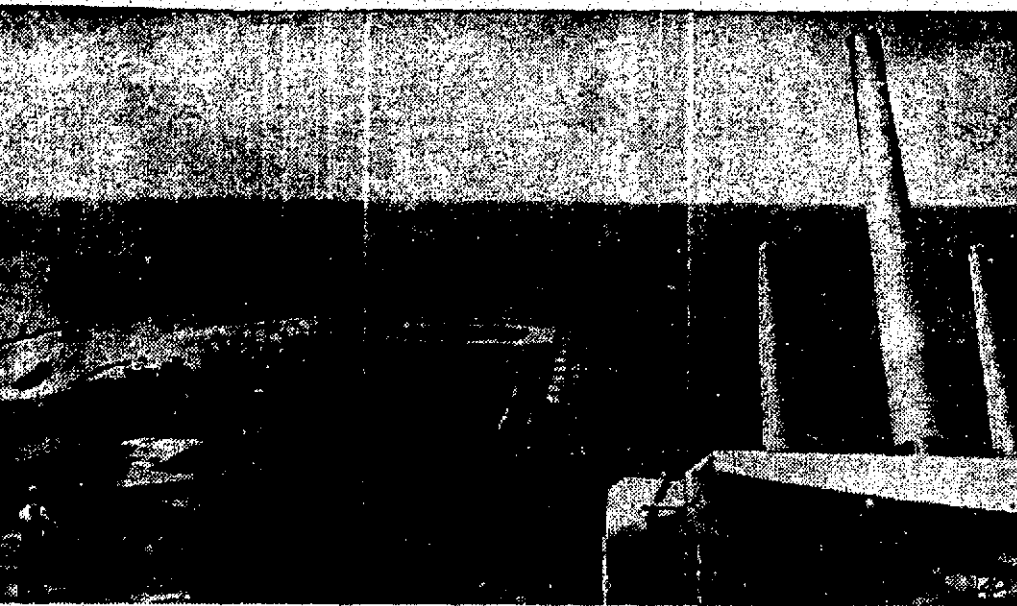

In his prepared text today, McCarthy said he was submitting to the Senate a photographed copy of "Mr. X's" State Department file. He did not hand out the copy in advance.

McCarthy said he had deleted the name of "Mr. X" from the copies he would make public, but that he would hand an unedited copy to some other senator so the name could be verified.

'Well Done,' Says General

Tokyo, July 25 (AP)—General MacArthur today passed on to United Nations troops in the Korean campaign the "well done" of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff. The commendation was issued in the first communique from the U.N. command. The command was formally set up today with MacArthur as commander-in-chief.

Main Rail Line Blasted in Belgium

Brussels, July 25 (AP)—The main railway line between Namur and Brussels was dynamited in two places today.

The explosions occurred near the town of Genval and Lessines in French-speaking Walloon — the section of Belgium where opposition to the return of King Leopold III to the throne has been strongest.

Telephone lines in the district also were cut during the night. Since Leopold came back last Saturday there have been a series of minor bombings.

Today's dynamiting, which put the rail line out of commission for several hours, happened shortly before Parliament was to convene to hear a message from the monarch.

Instead of following the customary procedure of delivering the message personally from the throne, Leopold last Saturday gave it to the presidents of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. Made public then, it pledged the monarch to forget past disagreements and maintain close relations with the legislatures.

Leaders of the anti-Leopold forces meanwhile went ahead with plans for "total non-cooperation and active resistance" toward the king and his adherents. A nine-man National Action Committee of Socialist, trade union and cooperative leaders announced they were setting in motion measures prepared "for the days and weeks to come."

Socialist leaders already have announced plans for a spreading wave of strikes but have indicated they do not plan yet to call a general strike.

The U. S. poultry industry is rated as a $3,500,000,000 business.

L. E. Fairchild Dies

Port Jefferson, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Louis E. Fairchild, 81, chairman of the board of Fairchild Publications, publishers of trade newspapers, directories and business books, died early today at the John T. Mather Memorial Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital last Wednesday from his home at Center Moriches, N. Y. His wife, the former Jessie Boyd, died in 1922. Survivors include a son, Edgar W. B. Fairchild, vice president and treasurer of Fairchild Publications, and a daughter, Mrs. Philip Rauch, of Huntington, N. Y.

Warning Is Given

Cleveland, July 25 (AP)—The Baptist World Congress today warned that at no other time has Christianity been in greater danger of "losing sight" of its principles and ideals. The warning was in a manifesto prepared by a 19-member commission on religious liberty headed by Dr. Stanley I. Stuber of New York. It bore the approval of the Baptist World Alliance executive committee as an official pronouncement.

Carrier Planes Hit Southern Korea as Communists Gain

Tokyo, Wednesday, July 26 (AP)—A combined U. S. and British navy task force sent carrier planes across the southwestern tip of Korea Tuesday in a surprise attack to stop advancing Red columns.

A headquarters announcement said the naval pilots struck at frontline targets in the area of Kwangju, near the southwest coast. Red forces there had been pushing an apparent flanking drive aimed at American communications with Pusan, U. S. supply base on the southeastern coast.

The American pilots flew Panther jets, Sky Raiders and Corsairs.

The operation was planned only 24 hours before as the Reds seized all of the western and southwestern part of the country. The Reds advance there shoved the United Nations forces into an ever narrowing perimeter to the southeast.

British planes maintained a protective cover for the American naval fliers.

The air strikes were made on targets of opportunity which the headquarters announcement did not specify.

It was reported that the raid was made at the request of U. S. army field officers who have been closely watching the wide flanking swing of the Red column into Kwangju, less than 30 miles from the coast.

The combined task force was commanded by Vice Adm. Arthur

D. Struble. He had just returned with his ships from recent air strikes at targets north of the 38th parallel, which divides north and south Korea.

Operations were directed by Rear Adm. John M. Hopkins.

The task force turned around on short notice after retreating earlier at sea. For the first time in the Korean campaign a rearming ship came alongside as the task force was proceeding to its new operation. In less than eight hours it transferred bombs and rockets directly to the racks of waiting airplanes.

The air strike was reported in a public information office announcement timed at midnight, Tuesday.

Sewer Plans Approved

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Local plans for a $200,000 treatment plant and sewer project for the town of Cornwall, Orange county, were approved today by the State Public Works Department. Superintendent Bertram D. Tallamy also announced the allocation of $4,000 as the state's share in the cost of preparing the plans. The project will be financed locally through a proposed Firthcliffe sewer district.

Memorial to Dietz

Editor, The Freeman: Once again, reading The Freeman, I am informed that the question of a Public Housing Project is before the Common Council. It doesn't take a great deal of study and research for one to know that there is a serious need for proper housing in the City of Kingston, especially for the veteran. Many veterans are still compelled to "double up" not always because of the lack of a dwelling but often because of the rental cost. Being a veteran I can readily understand what a project, such as is proposed at the present time, would mean to the veteran looking for a "home."

If the project is approved and finally built it should have a fitting name. It would seem to me that Kingston now has an opportunity to perpetuate the name of its only Congressional Medal of Honor recipient "Robert H. Dietz." Personally, I can think of no finer memorial to one who gave his life so that others might live.

Very truly yours,

A HERO WITH THE TREMBLES

Jim Dowell (right), 60, a Southern Railway brakeman, was riding the caboose of a coal train backing down a steep grade at St. Charles, Va. As the train gathered speed he spied 16-month-old Jimmie Woodward and his mother, Mrs. Carl Woodward, 23 (left). The baby was on the tracks and his mother racing to save him. The brakeman leaped off, scooped up Jimmy and straight-armed Mrs. Woodward off the rails just as the train went by. Jim said the whole thing gave him "the weak trembles." (A.P. Wirephoto)

Jersey Gasoline War Cuts Price to 19.9

Hackensack, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Gasoline sold at 19.9 cents a gallon in parts of New Jersey today in a spreading price war between the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers Association and the Sun Oil Company.

John Dressler, president of the retailers group, said the association's 3,000 members had been selling gas at 24.3 cents a gallon until several Sunoco-owned and operated stations cut their prices to 21.3.

Then association members announced a two-week cost-plus-rent price, which would bring gas to 19.9 a gallon in some places and 20.9 or 21.9 cents in others.

He said a Sunoco-owned station in Camden and another in Trenton cut their prices, and that other dealers who lease stations from Sunoco then followed suit along heavily traveled highways.

The price cuts spread along Routes 17, 6, and 4 in Bergen county, and along some parts of Route 25, a main New York-to-Philadelphia artery.

Legislative Group Meets in New York

The Joint Legislative committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions met at its office in New York July 19 and topics for continued considerations were discussed. A number of sub-committees were formed.

Assemblyman John F. Wadlin of Highland was named chairman of a committee in connection with the subject of child labor as applied to farm help and the problems of reasonable migratory agricultural help. He was also made chairman of a committee studying minimum wages as it applied to larger coverage and wage determination.

This committee was also instructed to act in connection with war planning as applied to labor and industrial conditions and to act in a liaison capacity between Washington and Albany so that in the field of legislation, continually studied by the Joint Committee, the state might be in a position to cooperate with national defense plans.

Wadlin was also named chairman of a sub-committee studying comparative cost of doing business in New York state with that of other states.

The Joint Legislative Committee consists of Lee B. Maillon, chairman, assemblyman from Orange county; Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, vice chairman, of Dutchess county; Assemblyman Willard C. Drumm, of Columbia county; Assemblyman John F. Wadlin and other members from New York city.

This committee is unique in that it consists of eight members, four of whom are Republicans and four Democrats. Any legislation which this Joint Committee agrees on sponsoring receives the backing of both major parties and assures its passage.

'Golden Creek' Dies At Johns Hopkins

Baltimore, July 25 (AP)—William G. Hells, the 63-year-old millionaire oilman with an intense love of good horses, died early today at Johns Hopkins hospital.

He underwent an operation for a respiratory infection May 20 and was discharged. He was readmitted July 12 and his condition since then grew progressively worse.

The foreign-born Hells — his friends long ago tabbed him the "Golden Creek" — came to this country when he was 17, virtually penniless.

He learned the oil business from virgin field to gusher. He went to California and was one of the developers of the vast fields there.

He soon stacked up a fortune through his knowledge of the black gold. But sudden reverses dumped his money back where it came from — in oil — and in 1930 he went to New Orleans to begin all over again.

It didn't take long. Robert Maestri, a former mayor of New Orleans and state conservation commissioner, backed him, and Hells struck it rich in developing the first big field in Louisiana.

Dewey Will Hear Arguments for Two

Ossining, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Counsel for the doomed "Lonely Hearts" slayers announced yesterday that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will hold a hearing next Monday on an application for commutation of their death sentences.

Defense Counsel Herbert E. Rosenberg said that if Dewey turns down the plea the case will be appealed to a Federal Court, and taken to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Rosenberg made the announcement as the convicted slayers—Raymond Fernandez, 35, and his fat girl friend, Mrs. Martha Beck, 30—were examined by the State Lunacy Commission. The examination by the commission, composed of three alienists, is a routine procedure.

The commission will report its findings confidentially to Gov. Dewey.

39 Bodies Recovered

Myrtle Beach, S. C., July 25 (AP)—Thirty-nine bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of an army air force transport plane that crashed near here Sunday, the air force reports. First reports placed the death toll at 34—30 Tennessee Air National Guardsmen and four Air Reserve crewmen from Florida. Late yesterday, however, Capt. E. S. Wood, public information officer at Shaw Air Force Base in Sumter, S. C., said five additional bodies had been recovered from the wreckage. He said the five additional victims were probably military hitchhikers.

News of Our Own Service Folks

Alfred L. VanWyck, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Wyck, Cottage street, Wallkill, is in training at the world's largest naval training center at Great Lakes, Ill. It was announced today.

In the course of his training the recruit is taught seamanship, navy customs, terms, basic ordnance, gunnery, signaling and navigation.

Upon completion of training the recruit is assigned either to units of the fleet or to a service school for specialized training.

YOU look at the king-size wheel-base on this strapping Buick ROADMASTER.

You look at those long Buick-tapered fenders sweeping from bumper to "double bubble" tail beacon.

You step inside and luxuriate in leg-room and hiproom and headroom generous as old-time hospitality.

You ride it—and wonder if wings were ever so soft.

You feel that big bonnetful of Fireball power whisk you from standing start to road speed with the honeyed magic of Dynaflo Drive.

And you tell yourself this is entirely too perfect.

All this automobile must be hard to handle, too big for your garage.

Good sir, just slide over and take this ROADMASTER's wheel.

Pick a curb space you'd ordinarily pass by, and back this Buick into it on your very first try.

Here Buick has done a neat job of reducing over-all inches while keeping interior king-size comfort. When you wheel this whopper into your own garage, you'll be tickled pink at the room all around it.

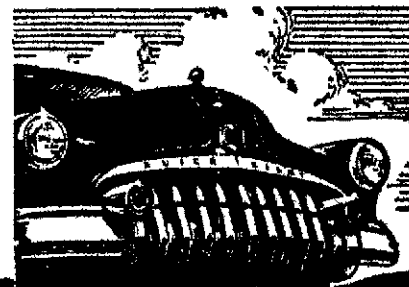

So come on! Head for your Buick

Cowboy—Two rattlesnakes.

Judge—Did I understand you to say, Witness, that the parties came to high words?

Witness—No, your honor; what I said was that the words were particularly low.

Niece (in the picture gallery)—Aunt Sarah, this is the famous "Angelus" by Millet.

Aunt Sarah—Well, I never! That man had the nerve to copy the calendar that has hung in our kitchen for a dozen years or more.

COOLNESS IN FROSTY ICED COFFEE

FROSTY ICED COFFEE makes an ideal summer cooler.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

There's no pleasanter ending to a warm-weather supper than a tinkling glass filled to the brim with frosty iced coffee. Remember, however, that perfect iced coffee starts with good, hot coffee.

Try either one of these easy-to-follow methods:

Pre-Cooled Method

1. Make coffee regular strength—one standard coffee measure (or its equivalent, two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of freshly drawn water.

2. Cool in a non-metallic container for not more than three hours, or if the container is tightly covered, chill in refrigerator.

3. Serve in tall glasses with ice, adding simple syrup or sugar and cream to taste.

Quick Method

1. Make coffee double strength, by using half the amount of water to the usual amount of coffee.

2. Pour hot over ice cubes in tall glasses. The extra strong coffee allows for the dilution caused by the melting of the ice.

3. Serve with cream and simple syrup or sugar to taste.

You'll find that simple syrup makes the ideal sweetening for iced coffee. Just boil equal quantities of sugar and water for about 10 minutes, stirring until the sugar has dissolved. The syrup can be made in small or large quantities; it keeps indefinitely when stored in the refrigerator.

Like coffee flaccid in dessert? Then try this de luxe mousse.

Coffee Mousse

(8 servings)

One-half cup double-strength coffee, 1/3 cup sugar, 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten, 4 teaspoons vanilla, 2 cups heavy cream.

Heat sugar and coffee together, stirring until sugar dissolves. Boil to 238 degrees F. or until syrup spins a thread. Add syrup slowly to egg whites, beating constantly.

until mixture is cool; add vanilla; chill.

Whip cream until it just holds shape; fold into chilled egg white mixture. Pour into 2 empty No. 2 cans, filling almost full. Cover tops with several thicknesses of waxed paper or aluminum foil. Secure with elastic bands.

Pack molds in tub or bucket with equal parts of chopped ice and ice cream salt. Let stand 3 hours, pouring off water and adding more salt or ice when needed. Unpack carefully. Unmold, cut each mold in 4 slices.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blueberries, cornflakes, crisp bacon, enriched toast marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Baked bean salad, sliced tomatoes, French dressing, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, peaches, tea, milk.

DINNER: Cold cuts, creamed potatoes, corn on cob, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, watercress and onion salad, coffee moussee, iced coffee, milk.

"Free Butter"

Seeds of the butter tree of western Africa, butyrospermum parkii, when dried and boiled in water, make a high quality, highly palatable butter that will keep indefinitely without salt.

Broken Vein in Face Caused Woman's Death

New York, July 25 (AP)—Mrs. Madeline Large, 27, of Queens, whose estranged husband is accused of beating her to death Sunday died from a broken vein in the side of her face, an autopsy revealed yesterday.

The medical examiner's report said Mrs. Large had a curious weakness of the vein—the subarachnoid membrane—and that it could break under a slight blow or fall, with the full effect of a brain hemorrhage.

The husband, 32-year-old William Large, a marine engineer, told police they had quarreled while talking over a possible reconciliation. Large said his wife slapped and scratched him and he struck back, hitting her about the head. He said both had been drinking.

He was charged with homicide and held for grand jury action without bail. His attorney said the quarrel involved a "boy friend" of Mrs. Large, and that Large had filed suit for a divorce in Ohio. The couple had a five-year-old son.

Youth Held for Homicide Following Russian Roulette

New York, July 25 (AP)—An "I shoot you" reversal of Russian roulette yesterday killed 17-year-old John Bond.

Police said they got the story from another 17-year-old, Richard O'Malley, who admitted firing the fatal shot.

O'Malley, a Bronx busboy, said he got a nickel-plated 32-caliber revolver yesterday from "a Spanish guy who owed me $1.50."

O'Malley said there were two bullets in the gun with an empty chamber between them.

"I thought it would be all right to snap the gun once, for there was an empty chamber in front of the firing pin," he told police.

But it was a "double-action" pistol. As he pulled the trigger, aiming at Bond—a loaded chamber slid in front of the hammer and the shot crashed out.

Bond, a bullet in the back of his neck, died on the way to a hospital.

O'Malley was arrested a few hours later as he waited in line at an army recruiting station. He was held on a homicide charge.

As Pegler Sees It

Meanwhile, much other information in the same testimony has been verified on the public record in the second Hiss trial. In such a dilemma whose interest is greater and who stands to suffer the worse from what course?

On the fastidious assumption that this single statement by the witness was wrong, although all his other statements proved right, would it be sane to keep hands off this engineer? Or would it be wiser and serve the mass interest of an innocent population to remove him, determine whether he is a party member or a fellow-traveler and, if so, put him in a concentration camp?

In the camp he would suffer loss of dignity and inconvenience, but probably would not be struck, but left at large and unrestricted, what might he do to thousands of loyal Americans? After all, he wouldn't be disturbed unless the testimony were verified by detectives' investigation.

In a vote a few days ago on an emergency bill to permit the Department of Justice to lock up alien Communists eight New York representatives voted nay. They included, of course, Vito Marcantonio, whose votes seldom give displeasure to the Communists, and Emmanuel Celler. Mr. Celler's district of Brooklyn contains a Communist element. How strong the Communists are numerically or proportionately no unofficial party can determine in view of the fact that it took many years and cost the government a million, more or less, to determine that Harry Bridges was one.

Nevertheless, Celler's district may fairly be described as one of the Red districts of New York. He is a Democrat and he offered his objections on constitutional grounds which may be valid in the judgment of some lawyers and even of some wobbly judges who adhere to the rule that makes it perilous for a patriot to call a Communist a Communist.

This bill passed the House overwhelmingly but it is a petty precaution at most because it only permits us to lock up a few alien enemies. Native traitors, who knowingly joined the enemy's conspiracy, are outside its provisions. Its purpose was merely to thwart the enemy's system of sending spies into our midst and then refusing to accept them back. The opposition found themselves stuck with the proposition that the enemy could flood the country with expert saboteurs, rioters and scientific spies and that we should let them stay at large because it would be unconstitutional to lock them up. But whose constitution is it? And is it so important that it can be invoked to destroy the nation which it is intended to preserve?

There is no valid doubt of our right to put Communists and Fellow-Travelers in concentration camps. The danger of treachery is clear and present, the hostile character of both groups is provable and there is precedent for this precaution in the Japanese deportation case in which the Supreme Court decided that for our own safety we had a right to lock up any person deemed to be a menace to security by any military commander.

If this nation had the initiative it might be less dangerous to let traitors stay at large. But the enemy will strike the first blow. He will strike in the dark and so hard that our country will suffer severely. It is known, for example, that a Communist cell has existed close to one of our greatest bomber bases. These Communists are known and they are known to be Communists to the satisfaction of any practical patriot in a time of peril. By their own choice they are Communist traitors. They planned it that way. If we don't lock them up the day may come when they will leer at us as they mocked the wretched Poles and Czechoslovaks in the name of a people's government under the hammer and sickle. That day may come anyway.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 25 — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corrigan of Woodside, L. I., are occupying one of the 12, 13, Gebelien apartments in the village center. Guests last week at the Gebelien place included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorenz of Brooklyn, annual summer visitors to Shokan. The couple during their stay here made a trip to the Onondaga area where Mr. Lorenz's sister operates a large farm.

Alfred Iapoco with his truck is engaged in hauling shale for the extensive town road improvements being made in the Krumboltz sector of Olive.

Walter Gilsinger, Wittenberg War 2 veteran who is employed as Sheffield milk distributor in the reservoir country, was a caller here the latter part of the week. Walter, noting the collection of old oak yokes at the Winchell store, remarked that there is hardly a man left over his way who knows how to break in and drive oxen. Wittenberg, or "Yanketown" as the settlement on the shady side of Tico Teayek Mountain used to be known, boasted of many a yoke of fine oxen and steers in the old days.

George Knickerbocker, Jr., and sister Josephine, Peekskill young people who spent some time here as children were guests Sunday at the home of their aunt, Mrs. C. A. Winchell. George is employed at the state armory and his sister, a trained nurse, has recently enlisted in the navy.

Mrs. Burton Penny of Boiceville has been caring for Mrs. Kenneth Rickard during the latter's illness at her home in Roxbury.

Mrs. Anthony Pastre and sister, Anne Koch, who removed to Coronado Beach, Fla., last spring, are reported to be spending some time with relatives in Greene county.

The regular Sunday morning service in the Shokan Reformed Church was conducted by the Rev. Walter White in the absence of the Rev. Richard Coons who is away on vacation. Dominie White, a forceful preacher, is well known to Olive churchgoers.

Poison ivy appears to be exceedingly virulent this summer, as is generally the case in seasons of frequent rain. The local doctor is reported to have treated a score or more of tormented ivy sufferers by the new injection method.

LEIBHARDT

Leibhardt, July 25 — There will be no preaching services in the Methodist Church until September while the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Hunter and Mrs. Hunter are away on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pollock recently entertained Daniel Pollock of the Cragsmoor Theatre, Mr. and Mrs. Max Pollock of New York, Mrs. Hilda Adler and daughter of Pleasant Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Devine and daughter of Ellenville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gray of Walkkill spent Saturday with their niece and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Markle.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wise are the parents of a daughter, Joan, born Monday evening at the Memorial Hospital in Ellenville.

The Girl Scouts enjoyed a party Friday evening at the Samsonville Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Markle called Sunday evening on friends in Samsonville and also on her cousins at the Brown home.

Miss Deidra Evans and uncle of New York are spending a short vacation here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schrieblman of New York, Mr. and Mrs.

Commandos Decorated

An American Far East Naval Base, July 25 (AP)—Fourteen U. S. Navy and Marine commandos were decorated today by Vice Adm. Charles T. Joy for blasting a rail tunnel on Korea's east coast north of the 38th parallel. Joy, commander of naval forces in the Far East, also awarded combat Bronze Stars to the captains of the light cruiser and destroyer from which the commando party was organized. They are Capt. Jesse C. Sowell of Washington, D. C., of the cruiser and Cmdr. E. H. Headland, whose destroyer moved to within 3,000 yards of the shore.

If the temperature of an automobile motor is above normal in spite of an adequate water supply, a loose fan belt may be the cause.

By PHILIP POTTER
Tokyo (AP)—Those who felt the United States was taking on a bush league for out here have learned differently.

The professional competence of the little brown-clad orientals leads one to suspect that their military training long antedated the establishment of the People's Democratic Republic of Korea, under whose flag they fight.

Their familiarity with tank warfare indicates that some might have been around in Russian uniforms at the battle of Stalingrad.

In any case, the green American doughboys who were thrown in against the Communist invaders have had a bloody and sweaty time of it.

They have been in tears, too—the tears of strong men whose best is not quite good enough.

Too Heavy Punch
The North Koreans have had too heavy a punch for the light-weight battalions which we have committed one at a time in an operation which one soldier described as "throwing in fly-weights against a Joe Louis—one at a time."

The quiet and boarded faces of the men who have faced North Korean tanks and infantry for three crucial weeks are those of men who have been in a war.

The shock of defeat is registered in their faces. Expressions of optimism heard here don't jibe with the picture one sees in the battle area and along the supply lines.

One of the major weaknesses of our position from the start has been the lack of flank protection for the battalions facing the main Communist forces.

Infiltration Helped
This has made possible the Communist tactics of infiltration which have turned one of our positions after another and forced our continued retreat.

Some observers see withdrawal to a beachhead, where we could have a continuous line of American troops in some depth, as the best we can hope for now.

There is confidence that an impenetrable perimeter could be established which would gain the time needed to produce the needed war material and to train the men to use it.

One is reluctant to guess how much it might take. There are too many imponderables in the situation, the main one being the extent to which the North Koreans can draw on Russia for war weapons.

Would Print Own Money
Los Angeles, July 25 (AP)—"I may have to print my own money soon unless the amount of my money is reduced," said Actor Errol Flynn as he prepared to face his first wife's lawyer. He didn't smile when he said it. Flynn visited the attorney for ex-wife Lili Dornia yesterday to give a deposition in connection with his suit for modification of his alimony payments. Under a property settlement, he pays $18,000 a year in alimony and $3,200 for child support. In addition, Flynn told newsmen, he pays $6,000 a year to support two children by his second wife, the former Nora Eddington, now married to singer Dick Haymes. Flynn wants to marry again, though. He said he and Trina Chion, 20-year-old Rumanian princess, are still very much in love.

Moose Movies Friday
Friday at dusk, Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, will show movies at the Veterans Housing project. The feature is "A Girl, a Boy and a Dog."

Sam Moss of the Bronx and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Schrieblman and family also of New York spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pollock and family.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, July 25 — The Methodist Altar Guild will meet at the church house tonight at 8 o'clock. Hostesses for the social hour will be Mrs. Oakly Maynard and Mrs. William Pridgen.

The Town Clerk Office in Port Ewen is not open Saturday for selective service registration.

'Variety' Editor Dies
Del Mar, Calif., July 25 (AP)—Arthur Ungar, editor of the entertainment world's Daily Variety, died last night of a cerebral hemorrhage following a slight beach accident. He was 64 years old. Ungar had been editor of the show business daily since its establishment in 1933. From 1914 to 1930 he was associated with the weekly magazine, Variety, in New York, Chicago and Hollywood. Daily Variety is published in Hollywood. His widow Ella survives.

Thank God for U.S.A.
Auckland, New Zealand, July 25 (AP)—"Thank God there's a U.S.A." Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland said today. Holland, a Conservative, said that while he is a strong supporter of New Zealand's commonwealth partner, Great Britain, "America is standing in precisely the position today that Britain stood in two previous wars." The prime minister was speaking to veterans on defense matters.

Corps Wins Prize
Port Ewen Drum Corps added another first prize to its string of accomplishments Monday evening at Newburgh. At the invitation of the Newburgh Veterans of Foreign Wars in Newburgh at their annual bazaar, the Port Ewen Drum Corps competing against 10 member corps of the Hudson Valley Drum Corps Association took first prize.

Mediterranean Polluted
Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—All bathing on the beaches of Tel Aviv—Israel's "Riviera" capital—has been banned by public health authorities. They said the order was issued because of the polluted and unhygienic state of the Mediterranean's waters.

Tree decay mostly is caused by fungi, although it can be aided by certain bacteria.

Adams Street Man
Hurt in Accident

Francis J. Wojciechowski, 37, of 24 Adams street, suffered a head injury when his sedan and a trailer truck were in collision on Broadway near Stayvossant street shortly before 3 p. m. yesterday. Officer Ernest Barroff reported at 2:55 p. m. that a six-ton truck towing a flat-bed trailer, operated by Amos DuBois, 50, of 34 Haight avenue, Poughkeepsie, was headed south on Broadway and Wojciechowski was headed north on the street.

An ambulance of the W. N. Conner service was called by the police and Wojciechowski was taken to Kingston Hospital where he was treated and discharged. The sedan was towed from the scene.

Workers Call Off Todd Yard Strike

New York, July 23 (AP)—Spurred by needs of the Korean war, C.I.O. workers today debated calling off their walkouts at the big New York harbor yards of the Todd Shipyards Corp.

Meanwhile, it was revealed that the U.S. Maritime Commission had withdrawn two "month-bailed" freighters from the company's Brooklyn yard Sunday night.

The ships had been ordered reactivated for Korean service. Commission officials said they were not too concerned about the effects of a Todd strike at this time—As there are plenty of other repair yards open, but they said they did not want the vessels tied up in event of a long strike.

The two victory ships, the Alma Victory and the Santa Clara Victory, were tied up at another dock for assignment to a different yard.

The strike began Sunday midnight at the Todd yard in Hoboken, N. J., and yesterday morning at the Brooklyn yard.

Officials of the two locals met last night to decide whether they should "all go back together or all stay out." The decision depended on a vote later today.

Wages are a strike issue, the union demanding six cents an hour more and the company offering two, but the main difference was a company request for "interchangeability" of specialty workers. This would allow them to be used on other jobs temporarily. Basic hourly wages have been $1.55.

The two sides gave sharply varying figures on the men idle. Todd's said the workers totaled only 200 to 300, while the union claimed 4,500 men were involved.

The difference apparently was between the total available working force and the number actually assigned to ship work at one time.

Steingut Opposition Loses
New York, July 23 (AP)—A move challenging the nominating petitions of Irwin Steingut, Democratic minority leader of the State Assembly failed yesterday in State Supreme Court. Justice Charles D. Breitler denied an application by opponents of the Brooklyn assemblyman to compare the signatures on his nominating petitions with signatures in voters' registration books. An attorney for the petitioner told the court that the Steingut petitions contained "forgery on a wholesale scale." A court order for the comparison was sought by Mrs. Selma Burstein, a supporter of Max M. Schwartz who is fighting Steingut in the Aug. 22 Democratic primary. Schwartz is opposing Stein-gut for both the Assembly nomination and for the Democratic leadership of Brooklyn's 18th Assembly District. Justice Breitler denied the petition without comment. Plans for an appeal were announced.

29 Men Are Wounded
Fairfield, Calif., July 23 (AP)—Twenty-nine men wounded in the Korean fighting, and 30 other hospital cases from Japan, were brought to the air force Fairfield-Suisun base yesterday by plane. Capt. Al Gaiety of Huntsville, Texas, pilot of the big transport, said the 9 hour 20 minutes flight from Honolulu was smooth and without incident. The men were taken immediately to the base hospital for treatment and rest.

There were 12 litter cases and 17 walking injured. The litter cases included, Pfc. Thomas Meranda, Hudson, N. Y.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Poor Playing Undoes Masterful Bidding

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"Well," sighed Hard Luck Joe, "we have one consolation. We bid the hand right!"

"That a wonderful consolation," moaned North, "but I have no right to complain. I ought to have my head examined for bidding a slam when I have you for a partner."

"Ain't it the truth?" Joe asserted, not without pride. "Other people get a break now and then, but I'm unlucky all the time. Do you realize that, with the spade finesse working, all I need is a 3-3 break in spades, diamonds, or clubs. Even if the spade finesse lost, I'd still be all right if either clubs or diamonds broke. The odds must be terrifically in favor of the slam."

In the play, West had opened the queen of hearts. Dummy won with the king of hearts, and Joe looked over the situation for a moment or two. Then he led the jack of spades from the dummy. East covered with the king and South won with the ace.

Joe next cashed the queen and ten of spades, discovering that West still had a high spade. He then hopefully tried three rounds of diamonds and three rounds of clubs, discovering in each case that East controlled the fourth round of the suit. All he could do was take his ace of hearts and surrender the last two tricks.

Do you think that Joe was unlucky? If not, where did he go wrong—in the bidding or in the play? Decide for yourself before you read on.

There was nothing wrong with the bidding. The opening bid of one club is the standard procedure with a hand of that type. It is not strong enough for one no-trump, and an opening bid of one spade might make it difficult for South to find a rebid. After opening with one club, South has no problem in rebidding.

North certainly had every right to wind up in a slam contract when he held 4½ honor tricks opposite an opening bid. The slam at no-trump was a sound contract, and no suit contract would have been any better.

Perhaps Joe was unlucky in finding no suit to bid. However, even if he should have made his contract in spite of this.

After winning the first trick with the king of hearts, Joe should have led a low spade from dummy. The finesse of the queen or ten of spades would hold, and Joe would get back to dummy with a diamond to lead dummy's remaining low spade. East would have to play his king on this, and South would win with the ace. Dummy's jack of spades would therefore make a trick. With four tricks in spades, Joe would have had no trouble in taking twelve tricks.

It is sometimes necessary to lead a high card for a finesse. For example, when you are short of entries to the dummy, the high card should be led. It enables you to hold the lead in dummy if the honor is not covered. When you have as many entries as you need to dummy, however, there is no need to lead a high card. The low card should then be led on the chance that the missing honor will fall on the first or second round.

Private Memorial
Clinton, Ill. (AP)—On the night of Feb. 5, 1943, an army plane crashed on the John A. Gibson farm. Five officers and men were killed. Mrs. Gibson decided that they should not be forgotten. She put up a homemade plaque bearing their names at the scene of their deaths. Each Fourth of July, Armistice Day and Memorial Day, she places five flags in a half circle about the plaque and lays a bouquet of flowers in the center.

Truck Strike May Put Out 175,000

New York, July 25 (AP)—Both labor leaders and management expressed fear today that 175,000 A.F.L. workers in the construction industry will be idle here by tomorrow night unless a strike by 1,100 supply truck drivers is ended.

With the flow of building materials cut off for six days, one project after another has to close down in New York city and Long Island communities.

Nearly half the working force of 175,000 already is out of work, an industry source estimated.

The strikers belong to Local 282 of the A.F.L. Teamsters Union. They want a $5 a day wage increase, and have rejected a company offer of $3.30 a day that would have raised the daily pay to $16 and provided a hospitalization plan.

Federal mediators, so far unsuccessful in trying to settle the strike, planned new joint talks with the two factions.

Howard McSpadden, president of the A.F.L. Building and Construction Trades Council, said the situation was "so serious" that he had notified A.F.L. trades officials in Washington and called a local board meeting for today.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, July 24 (AP)—The shooting war in Korea may soften the outcry against bigness in business, many believe. And if the shooting spreads elsewhere, we may wish our industries were even bigger than they are.

The biggest companies appear to make the most on each sale. And that galls many Americans. When the cost of living is rising and corporate earnings appear to be tied closely to rising prices. But in wartime the biggest companies also turn out the most goods, both for the military and for the civilians, defender of bigness point out.

It isn't merely a matter of big plants and many workmen. There is also highly specialized and expensive machinery and the American system of industrial integration—which is the art of making a vast, complex and widely scattered industrial process turn out a simple appearing product you pick up at the store without even wondering how it got there.

Becomes Spectacular

This industrial integration becomes more spectacular when it turns the products of the mine and field into military weapons. With war the chief peacetime problem of bigness disappears—the problem of the fine line between more bigness, which is regarded as good when it is economical, and monopoly, which is regarded as evil when it dictates to the consumer.

Before the Red's struck Korea, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer asked "when everything else in America is getting bigger, shall we expect business to get smaller?" And the president of General Electric, Charles E. Wilson said: "No company and no industry has yet been big enough to bring goods to enough people."

Years Are Compared

Since 1949 was a year of ups and downs as compared with 1947 when the trend was almost universally on the upgrade, statisticians for the National Industrial Conference Board have compared the years. They find:

In 1949 the small companies made much less profit on each sale, and only the corporations with the biggest sales volume were able as a class to do better in profit on each sale in 1949 than in 1947. Total sales fell in all size classifications of corporations except those with assets of $100 million or more.

The smallest corporations were the hardest hit in total profits during the 1949 recession. The return which stockholders get on their equity increases as you go up the size scale from the small to the large corporation.

However, the statisticians find that the smallest companies are more likely to get a faster turnover of assets, and hence a better return in relation to net worth.

Look At Big Companies

A look at how the very biggest of corporations get along is taken by the statisticians of the National City Bank of New York. They find that the 100 largest manufacturing corporations, in the country, employing four million workers, have total assets of more than $49 billion. This means an average investment of $12,200 per worker.

The range is wide. At one end are the four rubber companies who invest $5,500 per worker. At the other four tobacco companies, where the amount of money tied up in inventories is a major thing, and the investment is $41,200 per worker.

For the 100 biggest manufacturers as a whole, the average investment per worker is divided thus: $5,400 tied up in plant and equipment; $8,800 represented by current assets, which include raw materials, work in process, finished goods, accounts and notes receivable, cash and government securities. The current assets are what the companies use to keep the plant and equipment operating.

Have to Be Big

The bank stresses that corporations have to be big to be able to provide so much investment per worker—that an individual worker could not provide the equivalent tools and organization by himself. Hence, says the bank, the need and the contribution of bigness.

But the federal reserve board sounds a different note. Looking at the upswing in corporate profits in the early months of this year, it points out that a few large companies accounted for most of it, because they alone were able to cut costs.

The board thinks opportunities abound to cut costs further, but adds sadly: "Smaller companies have been somewhat less successful in their attempts to reduce costs in the face of growing competition."

Filipino Dimes Disappear

Manila (AP)—Mister, can you spare a dime? That's a silly question these days. Dimes just don't get around any more. Two months ago the Philippine central bank stopped issuing them. It was feared they were being shipped out of the country because of their silver content. Such coins are in demand in countries where paper money puts a premium on their value.

Widow Blames District Attorney

New York, July 25 (AP)—The widow of a police captain who killed himself last week blamed the racket-probing Brooklyn District Attorney for his death, in a brief and almost hysterical interview yesterday.

"What kind of a torture chamber did you use to break my husband?" Mrs. Attracta Flynn cried out at Miles E. McDonald, the Kings county prosecutor.

"Johnny Flynn's blood is spattered on you and will be for the rest of your life!" she cried.

McDonald, who had left the grand jury room in the Brooklyn Central Courts building to see her, turned and walked away.

An unusual number of police officers, from a deputy inspector on down, were present to witness Mrs. Flynn's outburst.

Flynn shot himself with his service pistol July 16, leaving a note saying his act had no connection with the Brooklyn gambling probe that has turned up evidence of police corruption.

Flynn had appeared before the grand jury several weeks before, but never had been accused of any connection with gambling.

He was buried Friday after 6,000 police led by Mayor William O'Dwyer, marched in his funeral procession to protest McDonald's methods in conducting the investigation.

Police officers present yesterday led the weeping widow downstairs where her three children waited for her.

Then they read to newsmen a prepared statement much in the same vein as her words to McDonald.

Hotel Wage Boosts

New York, July 25 (AP)—Thirty-three thousand A.F.L. employees of New York city's major hotels will get immediate wage boosts of from $1.80 to $4 a week under an award from an arbitration commission. Edward P. Mulrooney, impartial chairman of the city's hotel industry, announced the 20 per cent.

Mr. Fishman is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is a senior at the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati.

Betty Ann King Becomes Bride of John Taylor, Jr.

New Paltz — Miss Betty Ann King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold King, Poughkeepsie, became the bride July 16 of John Taylor, Jr., New Paltz, in Holy Trinity Church, Arlington. The Rev. Leo Gregg officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of rose point lace and nylon tulle over white satin, with a lace and tulle bonnet, and a fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gerard Fraleigh, matron of honor, wore pale green lace and net over tulle, and carried yellow gladioli.

Cornelius C. Taylor, New Paltz, served as best man, and ushers were John D. King, Pine Bush, and Richard Brynes, New Paltz.

After a reception at Wendover Farms, the couple left for George and Canada. For traveling the bride wore a summer beige gabardine suit with white accessories, and a corsage of orchids. They will live on Millbrook road, New Paltz.

The bride was graduated from Poughkeepsie High School and New Paltz State Teachers College, where she was a member of the Kappa Gamma Phi sorority. She is a member of the faculty of the Red Hook Central School.

Mr. Taylor, an alumnus of New Paltz High School, served two and a half years in the navy during the war. He is associated with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., at New Paltz.

Miss Evelyn Spongia Honored at Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Saturday night at the Blue Flame Tavern, The Vly, Stone Ridge, in honor of Miss Evelyn Spongia, who is to marry Thomas C. Russell on September 24. Hostess was Mrs. Harry Stange of New Hyde Park, L. I., cousin of Mr. Russell.

The dining room was decorated with white wedding bells and streamers. The bride-to-be sat in a throne-like chair over which hung a sprinkling can and umbrella. Refreshments included a buffet supper, punch, cake and coffee.

Guests included: Mrs. F. Spongia, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. V. Russell, mother of the prospective groom; Mrs. J. ### Harpist and Pianist Will Be Featured In Quartet Concert Here Tomorrow Night

ILSE SASS

MARCELLE De CRAY

Marcelle De Cray, well-known harpist, and the popular Ilse Sass, pianist, will be guest artists at the third concert of the summer series presented in Kingston by the Woodstock String Quartet. The concert will be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the parish hall of the St. James Methodist Church.

Tickets and memberships will be available at the door. The attractive and talented Miss De Cray in addition to her position as harpist with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, has played more than 800 concerts, of which more than half were repeat performances.

She made her debut in Philadelphia's Convention Hall when she was nine years old. She studied with the renowned American harpist, Mildred Dilling, and in Paris with Henriette Renie.

Ilse Sass is known to many Kingstonians for her appearances as pianist with the quartet last summer. An accomplished soloist and chamber musician, and acclaimed as one of Europe's finest pianists, she has given numerous recitals in New York and elsewhere. She appeared twice last winter in recitals at Times Hall. Tomorrow night's program (which will also be performed in Woodstock, Friday evening) includes a sonata for cello and piano, to be played by Miss Sass, and Engelbert Roentgen, manager of the quartet, and principal cellist with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

The program:

Sonata for cello and piano ..... Hure
Harp selections ..... Hure
The Harmonious Blacksmith ..... Handl
Impromptu-Caprice ..... Pierré
Dream of Love ..... Liszt
The Fountain ..... Zabol
Quartet in G minor, Op. 10 ..... Debussy

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

SOPPING BREAD!

A reader brings up the doubtful question of sopping bread. "A friend of mine insists that it is proper to sop your plate with a piece of bread after having finished eating. He argues that etiquette would not be so wasteful of the good juices often left on the plate. No matter what I say, I can't seem to prove my point. Please explain this."

While it can't be recommended as formal table behavior, it is not bad manners if done properly. This means putting a small piece of bread down on the gravy and then eating it with knife and fork as though it were any other helping on your plate.

The Wedding Photographer

Dear Mrs. Post: I specialize in wedding pictures, taking them at interesting moments throughout the entire ceremony and reception. As such as I am fairly conspicuous figure and yet not actually a guest. May I wear casual clothes on these occasions or should my attire be at least in line with that worn by men guests?

Answer: You need not wear formal clothes. An inconspicuous navy blue suit with dark blue or black tie would be in best taste. At an evening wedding you might properly wear a tuxedo if you care to—but not "tails."

The Guests at Party "In Honor of"

Dear Mrs. Post: A few of my future in-laws had decided to give me a luncheon in honor of my coming marriage and asked if I would let them party with me. It was a fine idea. But I look for granted that they would ask my best friends and my three sisters to this party and not most of their own best friends. When I learned the truth I explained that there had been a change in my plans and please for them not to go ahead with the party. Wasn't I right? Shouldn't my own sisters and best friends have been the first on the list?

Answer: In my opinion you made a very serious mistake you may even find difficult to overcome. The purpose of this party was definitely to introduce you to the friends of your bridegroom's family.

Are you in doubt about the number of sheets and other linen you should have in your home? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her latest F-5 gives a list of linens as well as a list of personal items you should include. ### Twins Given Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Doris and Lois Beyersdorfer at DeWitt Lake Sunday evening, July 23, by their friends.

Tables were arranged on the porch with balloons overhead. The cake was cleverly arranged in the center of the tables and happy birthday was written with life savers. Twenty-eight candles were stuck in the holes of the lifesavers. This was the twins' 14th birthday.

Those attending were Barbara, Mary Lou and Buddy Beyersdorfer, sisters and brother of the twins; the Misses Rose Gahli, Arlene Andrews, Winnie Eager, Lorraine Kastner, Helen Schmidt, Evelyn Schmidt, Doris Zehentner, Mariene Worli, Gail de Witt, Chris Gallo, Neil Crowell, Ronald Hopfer, Frank Dai Duca, Joe Hanns, Jack Deyo, and Lou Hornbeck. Also Mrs. Beyersdorfer.

Herbert Cutler Is Chef Supreme With Ancient-Type Oven

A Chinese oven of a type dating back to the Han Dynasty (206 B.C. to A.D. 220) stands on the mountainside cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Cutler at Glenargie Park, Palenville, because of a magazine article three years ago.

Trader Vic, celebrated restaurateur of Oakland, Calif., wrote the article explaining the oven in the 1947 June issue of the magazine, Gourmet, and Herbert Cutler, whose city address is 16 John street, became interested and wrote for details.

An important item, Cutler found, was the proper type and size of sheet metal. This he found sooner than expected at a Kingston junk yard and the rest came comparatively easy.

Cutler obtained plans and additional information through a letter from Trader Vic after reading the article, and he began gathering the necessary materials. The 500 bricks used in the structure were presented to him by Terry Staples of the Malden Brick Yards.

Stands 50 Inches

The oven stands 50 inches high, is 37 inches in diameter at the bottom and 44 at the top. Its walls are the thickness of an eight-inch brick laid lengthwise. The work was started about a year ago, but the oven was used for the first time only last spring.

Chief value of the oven, said Cutler, is that it cooks evenly. Each roast is hung inside in a way to allow for even heat on all sides. Hickory logs are used for flavoring and the oven is heated for three-quarters of an hour before it is used. His guests testify to the quality of his culinary efforts.

The oven at Trader Vic's restaurant is said to be the only one used commercially. It was built 15 years ago by a Chinese workman and adapted from the ancient stoves of China.

French cooks of the 17th Century were credited with originating the term barbecue. They came upon the primitive method of cooking animals whole on South American shores. The Gourmet article said, and called it "de barbe a queue," which means literally cooked from head to tail.

The expression worked its way back to England and the Spanish later brought it to California. Trader Vic explained. The original French expression was slurred into a word which now has come to mean any form of outdoor cooking.

Only On Feast Days

The Chinese, ancient masters of culinary art, have not done much with barbecuing in its true sense because of innate frugality, "and only on feast days and at wedding feasts."

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, aches and pains, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness. Getting up nights or feeling nervous may result from minor kidney irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's also helps relieve backache, kidney trouble, urinary ailments, bladder out, waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

An Oven to Delight Gourmets

The oven is whole pigs and chickens roasted," the article said. Advantages of the Chinese barbecue oven are many, Trader Vic explained. "There is a complete range of heat control at all times. It gives a delicate flavor of wood smoke and an appetizing appearance to meat or fowl. Nor least is the size or quantity of meat or fowl which can be cooked simultaneously."

The Cutlers' oven is near the cottage, generally known as the "Little House" on the estate of the late Dr. Albert G. White, Mrs. Cutler's father.

Block Park Play, Movies Slated Tonight

Tonight at Block Park, beginning at 8 o'clock, the children will present the play, "Cinderella," and following it there is to be a movie, "Arabian Nights," in technicolor.

Playing in "Cinderella" will be: Harriet Ann Diers, R. Quick, C. Hoffman, M. A. Schatzel, M. Guess, J. Houghtaling, T. Haynes, F. Fisher, B. Hoffman, T. Fisher. Vaudeville entertainment between acts will be presented by Sharon Woods, Regina Bunt, Rose Davide, Pat Davide, Mary Woods, George Fisher, Jackie Davide, Doris Barnhart, Barbara Davide, and Kathleen Mayer as mistress of ceremonies.

King Raises Bees

Copenhagen (AP)—King Frederik IX of Denmark among other hobbies likes bee-keeping during his summer holiday at the royal cottage in Trend, north Jutland. Now the king has become a member of the "Danish Bee-keeper Association." His Majesty was very proud as he received from the association the labels for honey-glasses. They read "King Frederik, Trend, member No. 14,000."

Girl, 5, Puts Out Fire

Delburne, Alta. (AP)—Donna Turner is one five-year-old who can keep her head in an emergency. Left alone in the house, she soon found it filling with smoke. Finding an electric iron left on the cloth burning, the youngster disconnected the iron and poured water on the cloth before calling for help.

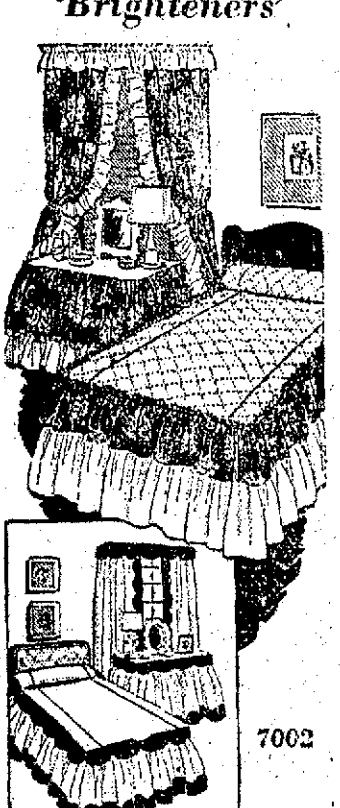

These two views of the Chinese oven of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cutler at Palenville, show it in full view (top) with the small opening at the bottom for fueling, and (below) the opening where roasts are inserted. Hickory logs are used in the fire to add flavor. (Freeman Photos)

Catholics Aid D.P.'s

Frankfurt (AP)—Nearly a third of all displaced persons who emigrated to the United States from Germany and Austria in the last four years were aided by the National Catholic Welfare Conference, says the Rev. Stephen A. Bernas, Catholic conference director for Germany and Austria. He said 46,401 displaced persons have been processed by the conference, out of a total of approximately 150,000 emigrants to America.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD B. THIBAUT, JR.

Business Association

Elects Three Officers
Woodstock, July 25—The board of directors of the recently organized Woodstock Business Association elected Leon P. Carey, president, Warren Hutt, vice-president, and Karl Cousins, treasurer.

Carey said that the position of executive secretary remained open to allow the board of directors time to give full consideration to the applications now on file and to receive additional applications. He stated that the association is aware of its responsibilities to the town and will welcome the opportunity to cooperate with the representatives of the town government and local civic organizations in efforts to improve the town.

Fire Company Makes

Convention Plans
Woodstock, July 25—Members of Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 met on Monday night to arrange plans to attend the firemen's convention and parade in Kingston on Saturday, July 29. The Woodstock Fire Company has hired the Pine Bush Bugle and Drum Corps to parade with the delegation and the group will leave on a chartered bus at 1 p. m. from the Fire House.

Artists Association

Opens Gallery Show
Woodstock, July 25—The Woodstock Artists Association opened its "Ten Choose Two" show last Saturday afternoon with a reception at the Woodstock Art Gallery. The show has considerable scope with an unusual number of outstanding paintings and pieces of sculpture.

A highlight is Eugene Speicher's "Tennessee Negro" line head warmly and sympathetically painted.

Lillian Filic's "Raising Funds," is a truly delightful canvas, both as to subject matter and manner of treatment. "Coast Line" by Royer Gonzales depicts a rugged rocky shore solidly painted with rich and vibrant color. The most striking canvas is probably Eugene Ludin's "Hiding Places," a frightening but vividly alive presentation of a city under fire, with the inhabitants huddled in caves in the hills surrounding the besieged metropolis. One of the largest and most impressive pieces of sculpture to be seen at the gallery in some time is Tomas Penning's "St. Columille," a formal and beautifully chiseled statue in which placidity and quietness are inherent. The show will be on view at the gallery through August 2.

Library Plan Starts

Woodstock, July 25—Richard Burlingame of the Catskill Book and Record Shop announces that the traveling library sponsored by the shop was to begin operations today. The traveling library, which will include records as well as books will include in its itinerary the towns of Phenicia, Hunter, Elmchmanns, Tannersville, Woodstock and Rosendale.

Civic Organization

Parley Well Attended
Woodstock, July 25—A general meeting of the Woodstock Civic Organization was held on Monday night in the recreation room of the Dutch Reformed Church with a large attendance of Woodstock residents. Charles Goodrich, temporary chairman, presided. "Goodrich spoke of his pride in the community and of the many talented residents who have given Woodstock its unique standing. He cited the aims of the organization which are concerned with clean streets, parking facilities, additional recreational facilities and the protection planned for trees, etc. At the meeting the following people were elected as a permanent board of directors for a period of one year: Mrs. Cecil MacReady, John Pike, Charles Goodrich, Hilda Lightstone, William Lind, Margot King, Jerry Jeronimek, George Hard and David Huffine. From this board officers for the organization will be elected in the near future.

Talk on Buses

Woodstock, July 25—At a special meeting of Bearville School District No. 3, Town of Woodstock, a report on transportation facilities between Woodstock and Bearville, and findings concerning the possibilities of Bearville contracting with Woodstock, was read by Joseph Marr, last Friday night at the Bearville School. Serving on the committee which compiled the report were Mr. Mary Mrs. Leo Herbert and Edward J. Devlin. It was announced that a special meeting of the Bearville School District will be held on August 4, at 8 p. m., at which time a vote will be taken on contracting with Woodstock.

Has Flower Sale

Woodstock, July 25—Mrs. S. A. Holst, owner of the "Marlena" flower shop in the village, which opened last fall, has announced that the shop will close in the near future. Mrs. Holst has just begun her closing-out sale of cut flowers, plants, pottery and accessories.

Golfers Celebrate

Woodstock, July 25—Following a golf tournament last Saturday afternoon at the Woodstock Country Club, a cocktail party was held on the terrace of the club for members and their guests. Clonning Nessel, accommodation, and Bill Moore, trumpeter, provided musical entertainment.

Village Notes

Woodstock, July 25—Gloria Garrison, daughter of Judge Charles J. Garrison of Shady, will will for Europe on Saturday, July 30, on the Lagaria.

John J. Cronin of New York city was a guest for the week-end of Henny Youngman.

Lester, Wallace and Grace Greenwood spent the week-end in Woodstock.

Charles Goodrich will spend a few days in New York this week.

Stories of Jews in Egypt

Jerusalem (AP)—Stories of the life of Jews in Egypt during the Hellenistic and Roman times are going to be published in Israel. The ministry of education and culture allocated $1,400 for the publication of more than 500 papyrological documents.

Four States Hold Democratic Tests

(By The Associated Press)
Democrats in four southern states are holding primaries today, with national interest centered primarily on a senatorial race in Oklahoma.

There, Senator Elmer Thomas, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and a veteran of the Washington scene since 1927 is trying to hold off the bid of Rep. Mike Monroney, who has been in the U. S. House 12 years.

Monroney led Thomas in the senatorial primary July 4 but lacked a clear majority because the total vote was split by other candidates then in the field. This time it is strictly Monroney-vs.-Thomas.

Monroney has campaigned in the second go-around with the argument that Thomas, as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee handling military appropriations, is partly responsible for the plight of U. S. forces in Korea.

Thomas has challenged Monroney's stand on farm legislation, a matter of much concern in Oklahoma.

The other states, in brief: ARKANSAS—There is a national angle in the race for the nomination for governor between Gov. Sid McMath and former Gov. Ben Laney. Laney is a leader of anti-Truman Democrats while McMath has supported much of the Truman program.

LOUISIANA—The main race here is for the Senate, between Senator Russell Long, son of the late Huey P. Long and two opponents: Malcolm LaFargue, Shreveport lawyer endorsed by the major groups which oppose the Long faction, and former Rep. Newt Mills of Monroe.

SOUTH CAROLINA—Most statewide races were settled in a first primary July 11 but two Congressional district nominations are being decided. Rep. Hugo Sims of Orangeburg faces former Terr. John J. Riley of Sumter and Rep. James B. Hare of Saluda is opposed by former Rep. W. J. B. Dorn of Greenville.

Democratic nominations in South Carolina, Arkansas and Louisiana mean election in effect, this is generally true, too, in Oklahoma.

Invasion Threat Ends

Taipei, Formosa, July 25 (AP)—The threatened Chinese Communist invasion of Quemoy Island off the China coast opposite Formosa ended today—at least temporarily. The Defense Ministry said that Red junk seen approaching the 50 square mile island did not strike. Chiang Kai-shek's elder son, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo, returned Sunday from Quemoy. He reported morale there high.

Will Go to San Diego

New York, July 25 (AP)—All first enlistment naval recruits from the New York area will receive their "boot" training at the Naval Training Station, San Diego, Calif., the navy announced today. Recruits formerly were sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Contrary to prevalent belief you don't have to sleep on your back to snore.

TRAVEL TRICK—Teach Rover to obey if you're taking him along on your vacation by automobile, says Carol Lane, woman's travel director of Shell Oil Company, who travels about 50,000 miles a year with her pup. A small suitcase dividing the front seat is a good safety rule. The dog will soon learn to stay on his side.

DON'T DO IT—Leashing a dog to the steering wheel is a common and cruel error by inexperienced drivers. Soon Rover will slip from the door and hang himself. Instead, leave the dog free in the car, with windows open just enough to give him plenty of air.

Bill Is Repudiated

Buenos Aires, July 25 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron's congressional leaders have repudiated a proposed bill to outlaw communism in Argentina. The leaders said the bill would not be considered by any committee or debated in the Chamber of Deputies. Four administration deputies introduced the bill July 19. Yesterday Chamber President Hector J. Campora and Peronista Leader Angel Miel Asquila told newsmen the bill does not reflect the spirit or feeling of Peron's party.

Coast Guard Needs More Manpower, Snyder Declares

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today the Coast Guard "will require additional manpower" to carry out its harbor patrol, port security and other defense missions.

Asked whether it would be necessary to await congressional appropriations to pay reserves for active duty before they can be called to action, he said:

"If the Coast Guard is needed for defense purposes, we won't hold back on putting it into action—we will find ways to do it." The Army, Navy, Marines and other services already have moved to call up some reserves, but the Coast Guard has not yet done so.

Navy Plane Falls At Remote Spot

Groton, Conn., July 25 (AP)—State Police reported a Navy plane of undetermined classification had crashed shortly after noon today at Bluff Point, a remote section of this community. There was no immediate information as to how many men were aboard.

State Police and an ambulance from the submarine base went to the scene.

Pleasant Weather Continues

(By The Associated Press)
July's pleasant weather continued over most of the nation today. The southern and eastern states were getting some warm and humid weather but not a full blast. From the Great Lakes region westward to the Rockies, skies generally were clear and temperatures seasonal. Readings also were near normal along the Pacific coast.

Woman, 36, Dies In Hotel Plunge

New York, July 25 (AP)—Miss Helen House, 36, plunged 10 stories to her death today, police said, as a friend pleaded with her to unlock her door in the Beckman Tower Hotel.

The friend, Miss Margaret Watson of Bermuda, a nurse, said Miss House was a graduate of Vassar College and the daughter of E. J. House of Pittsburgh. Miss Watson identified House as a director of the Pittsburgh Zoo.

The first ambulance corps operated during the Napoleonic Wars, and consisted of French soldiers assigned to the work of removing casualties from the field on stretchers.

and a resident of the Schenley apartments in Pittsburgh. Police reported the woman registered at the hotel last night taking separate rooms with an adjoining bath. Early today Miss Watson said she heard moans from her friend's room. She rapped on the locked door and Miss House told her, "I'm all upset."

When Miss House ignored pleas to let her in, Miss Watson telephoned the hotel desk to send someone with a pass key.

Before anyone could get upstairs, a thud was heard outside Miss House, clad in negligee, lay dead on the sidewalk.

The first ambulance corps operated during the Napoleonic Wars, and consisted of French soldiers assigned to the work of removing casualties from the field on stretchers.

Cook Will Check Bar Candidates

Andrew J. Cook, Sr., of 263 Albany avenue has been appointed a member of the character committee of the Third Judicial District, Third Department, of New York.

Cook, a former Ulster county judge, will succeed Samuel B. Coffin of Hudson, who resigned. The committee is charged with reviewing all applicants for admission to the bar in this district for the purpose of determining their character and fitness to be practicing attorneys. The committee is charged with ascertaining that applicants are not only qualified as lawyers but also "loyal to the government of the United States." The appointment was made by letter signed by the judges of this Appellate Division. Other members of the committee for this division are Patrick C. Dugan of Albany, chairman, and Wallace Sidney of Central Bridge.

Both frankincense and myrrh are obtained from trees.

Security Council To Hear Report on Korean Fighting

Lake Success, July 25 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council meets today to hear the first report from its military commander-in-chief, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, on the fighting in Korea. Informed sources said the report contains no recommendations for further U.N. action, but merely gives an accounting of the war so far.

Those who have seen the report say MacArthur speaks with high praise of the world body's collective effort. There had been complaints here that the general, whose men are fighting under the U.N.'s blue and white banner, previously had not stressed the combined effort strongly enough.

Other groups here have regretted what they consider a slow response from many members to the appeal by Secretary-General Trygve Lie for combat troops to bolster the Americans and South Koreans who so far have been doing all the ground fighting.

To date the U.N. has announced offers of 4,000 men and officers from Thailand and 30 officers from Bolivia.

An informed source said today, however, that American military authorities do not want a rush of troops from member nations to Korea at this time.

There is a feeling that problems of supply, language difficulties and other technical questions would limit their usefulness.

Diplomatic sources said member countries think it best to wait until they hear directly from Gen. MacArthur exactly what ground forces he wants. This, one diplomat said, would prevent the waste of sending infantry for instance, if MacArthur needed a concentration of artillery.

Submarine Is Spotted

Istanbul, Turkey, July 25 (AP)—An unidentified foreign submarine has been spotted in the Sea of Marmara, Defense Minister Refik Shevket Ince said today. An intensive search for it is underway. The sea of Marmara lies between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea where Russia is known to have an undersea fleet. Ince said the strange sub was sighted near Tzmit, center of the American military mission's naval program.

WALKKILL

Walkkill, July 25—Yearly Library Club awards were presented to the following students at the close of the Walkkill Central School year: One year service, Gertrude Butler, Carol Boyce, Anita Terrell, Iola Matzulis, Barbara Green, Patricia Green, Eileen Mehl, and Adele Hoppenstedt. Two year service pins went to Wilma Scott, Dora May Sutton, Elizabeth Kopaske, May Kraus, Iris Wood, Gwendolyn Saunders and Jean Quick. Three year awards were made to Mary Jane Stoneburg and four year service pendants were presented to Lilian Decker and Lucille Tyse. Six year bracelets were given to Frances Barclay, Marie Decker and Joan Wood. Mrs. Shirley Gardner, school librarian was adviser of the Library Club. The advance Library Club presented to the school a painting of Jenny Lind as a young girl to be hung in the school library.

Business students receiving shorthand and typing certificates in June at the Walkkill Central School were as follows: Gregg Writer typing test certificates were issued to Elizabeth Wells and Dolores Wolf for typing net rates of 33 and 32 words a minute. Such 15 minute speed certificates were also awarded to Frances Barclay at 29 words a minute, Joseph Byczek at 31, and Harold Ross at 31. The above totals may have no more than seven errors and are awarded certificates for 25 words a minute or more. A ten minute Competent Typist certificate was earned by Barbara Smith, for the rate of 35 net words a minute. This certificate is issued for tests beginning at 30 net words a minute and with no more than five errors. Melba Keenan, received a dictation and transcription certificate for passing an 80 word a minute test at 96 per cent.

Plans for another huge community picnic are under way by the Walkkill Chamber of Commerce. At their regular meeting on Monday it was decided to hold the picnic on August 21 at the Gerow Schoonmaker Pool. President Bene Kreiton will be the program chairman, assisted by Jesse McHugh, Gerow Schoonmaker, George W. Crist, Walter Smith and George W. Parلمان. C. Everett Terwilliger, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial committee was advised to keep the New York State Department of Commerce informed that Walkkill will be interested in any new industry that might want to locate in this area. Duane Dolan, introduced the guest speaker, Staff Sergeant Patrick Murphy of Stewart Field a survivor of the tragic Bataan Death March in the last war. He related a graphic story of the events along that march and of his three and one half years as a war prisoner of the Japanese.

Hugo Grotius, the great Dutch scholar of his day had a good law practice at 17 and was attorney general at 24.

Korean Civilians

likely to fall in the battlezone was given Sunday.

It followed almost two weeks of harassment by snipers, saboteurs and spies, who filtered through combat lines disguised as civilians.

All Koreans, north and south, look alike to the Americans. Soldiers sometimes put shot at suspicious white clad figures.

Situation Gets Worse
The situation grew worse when South Korean troops were moved to other sectors and the Americans were left alone to fight the hordes of Reds swarming toward them.

South Korean police, almost as badly disorganized as the South Korean army after the surprise invasion by the Reds, proved unable to cope with the situation. They tried to screen refugees but failed.

Military leaders decided to clear regular army units. These could be air guard and anti-aircraft artillery units.

Dewey also pointed out that the N.Y.N.G. units could be ordered to fulltime federal duty "in or out of the state."

The State Guard will take over home front military defense responsibilities as N.Y.N.G. units enter federal service.

A similar State Guard functioned during World War 2. It was officially disbanded June 1, 1949.

Dewey activated the State Guard under a provision of the State Military Law permitting the governor to create new military organizations and units during a state of war. He noted that the U. S. was still in an official state of war with Germany and Japan.

Dewey and Republican legislative leaders with whom he met yesterday agreed that a special session of the Legislature was not needed to create the State Guard. Dewey indicated, however, that if necessary he would call a special session later to cope with future problems and possibly to appropriate funds.

Meanwhile, the G.O.P. legislative chiefs approved a certificate of necessity to spend $500,000 of state reserve funds on the State Guard.

Dewey told newsmen that most of the money probably would not be spent until the guard was organized on an active basis.

The governor said Congress was expected to act soon on a bill to permit allocations of surplus federal material—primarily rifles and uniforms—to State Guards.

He said, however, there was a critical shortage of transportation equipment.

Dewey appointed two other high ranking N.Y.N.G. officers in addition to Hausauer to State Guard posts. The two area and divisional commanders—Maj. Gen. Brendan A. Burns of New York city and Maj. Gen. R. G. Brock of Buffalo—were designated State Guard area commanders.

Burns will command the metropolitan New York unit and Brock will direct upstate activities.

Fire in Elevator

Firemen were called at 4:08 p. m. yesterday to the F. Jacobson & Sons shirt factory, 77 Cornell street, where a fire in some grease on the tracks of an elevator shaft was quenched before serious damage resulted. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said the blaze apparently started when a piece of metal strapping touched an electrical unit.

civilians from the fighting areas to save lives.

Thousands streamed south all day Sunday. To keep the highways open to military traffic they were routed over railroad tracks wherever possible. At rail terminals they were put aboard trains.

Previously, Koreans had taken the chance of remaining in their villages with their meager possessions rather than face the rigors of the road.

Many villages—suspected of harboring enemy troops and artillery—have been blasted and burned. How many people stayed too long in their thatched roofed cottages is not known.

Wages, Housing Elbow Out War

London, July 23 (AP)—The atom bomb and the cold war run a poor third to wage hikes and housing in planks proposed by local British Labor Party units for inclusion in the party's new platform.

The 300 suggested resolutions were drafted before the outbreak of the Korean War for consideration at the party's annual conference Oct. 2-4. They were released by labor chiefs yesterday.

Only 27 of the proposed planks come under the heading "foreign policy and war danger." Mostly they indicate a grass roots yearning for peace and run counter to warnings of party officials that defense spending must be tilted "however unpopular it may be." Many of the rank and file domestic resolutions expressed doubt that the government's wage freeze policy could be continued in the face of inflationary pressures. Some 60 resolutions dealt with wages and living costs, 45 with housing and about 25 with nationalization of basic industries. Some of the foreign policy proposals call for Britain to move closer to Russia, to get out of the cold war and to ban the atom bomb.
